REGULARS PAY TRIBUTE TO SLEEPING WARRIORS

Silver Bugle Call Resounds O'er the Historic Hills of Gettysburg.

THE NATION'S FLAG UNFURLED

President Wilson Addresses Veterans of the Blue and Gray on Battlefield Where Lee and Meade Made History.

Gettysburg, Pa., July 4.—The United States' regular army paid tribute today to the thousands who sleep under the hills of Gettysburg. Somewhere down in the heart of the tented city a bugle sang out in silver sweet call, that wandered over the field where Lee and Meade made history. The big flag before the headquarters of Gen. Liggett, flashing in sudden curves of red and white and blue, glorious in the sunshine of a perfect July day came slowly half way down the shaft. In front of the tent, shoulders squared, figure trim in Summer uniform of white, face toward the flag the general clicked heels together and stood at attention.

Somewhere the guns of the third battery burst in staccato salute. Every officer of the length and breadth of the wide field, every enlisted man turned away from the duties of moment and faced the flag, heels together, heads up and eyes alight with the sentiment of the hour.

As the last gun of the 48 sent the echoes clattering about Cemetery Ridge and Round Top, there was solemn silence—the hush of peace! Old veterans, who did not realize, perhaps, exactly what was going on, stood silent under the spell of the universal feeling that seemed to sweep the field. Even the clatter of pots and pans in the mess tents was hushed and the yells of cooks about to dish up the midday meal lowered to whispers. For five minutes the camp was quiet. Then the bugle spoke again in notes more joyous. The silken flag leaped up the staff to its very pinnacle and the noises that 40,000 men can make, resumed their sway—the regular army's tribute to the dead and to the flag of a re-united nation was paid.

Only a few minutes before President Wilson had spoken in the big tent to the veterans in blue and gray, and only a short time afterward thousands of those who were left began their preparations for departure.

The President's Arrival.

The President came into Gettysburg shortly before 11 o'clock from Baltimore. Through the narrow, crooked streets of this war-famed country town, he motored out to camp, with Governor Tener, of Pennsylvania and Representative Palmer, of Pennsylvania, by his side. His appearance at the station of Gettysburg was the signal for a cheer and from somewhere down in the Gettysburg college grounds came the customary 21 salute. From the station to the camp over the village streets and gray roads the President was driven while the Pennsylvania constabulary, looking business-like and efficient in their slate-like gray uniforms, guarded his automobile and kept the traffic clear.

At the entrance to the big tent the President paused for a moment to let the camera battery pop away as he stood with head uncovered between a veteran from either army. His entrance into the tent to the strains of "Hail to the Chief" brought the crowd, which estimates say numbered 10,000, from their chairs with a cheer. The speakers' platform was filled with the staff officers of Governors, with men in Confederate Gray and a few in blue with women in gay dresses, and the President in his black frock coat, was a quiet figure.

Governor Tener introduced him in a dozen words. As he spoke there was another cheer. The President spoke slowly and carefully, but the breeze that played under the sides of the tent, the restless feet of those who hastened in made it difficult for the old men in the rear seats to hear and understand. The President was interrupted only once or twice with cheering.

The President was in the tent only a half hour. At the conclusion of his speech he shook hands with many of those on the platform and then walked between lines of the constabulary to his private car waiting on a nearby siding. He stood on the rear platform as the train pushed slowly down toward Gettysburg through the camp. A few minutes later he started for Harrisburg, and the North.

Special trains began pushing out of Gettysburg early and the railroad men were working their hardest to put them out on schedule. Although not many left after sundown tonight, the railroad officials estimate that the run had been almost 1,000 an hour for ten hours. It is probable, however, that hundreds will stay as long as possible on the field. Few of them make any pretense that they expect to visit Gettysburg again and they are anxious to take many a look at the hills and fields where their valor went out in deeds that have been told the world around.

President Wilson's Address.

"Friends and Fellow Citizens: I need not tell you what the battle of Gettysburg meant. These gallant men in blue and gray sit all about us here. Many of them met here upon this ground in grim and deadly struggle. Upon these famous fields and hillsides their comrades died about them. In ther presence it were an impertinence to discourse upon how the battle went, how it ended, what it signified! But 50 years have gone by since then, and I crave the privilege of speaking to you for a few minutes of what those 50 years have meant.

"What have they meant? They have meant peace and union and vigor, and the maturity and might of a great nation. How wholesome and healing the peace has been! We have found one another again as brothers and comrades in arms, enemies no longer, generous friends rather, our battles long past, the quarrel forgotten—except that we shall not forget the splendid valor, the manly devotion of the men then arrayed against one another, now grasping hands and smiling into each other's eyes. How complete the union has become and how dear to all of us, how unquestioned, how benign and majestic, as State after State has been added to this our great family of free men! How handsome the vigor, the maturity, the might of the great Nation we love with undivided hearts; how full of large and confident promise that a life will be wrought out that will crown its strength with gracious justice and with a happy welfare that will touch all alike with deep contentment! We are debtors to those 50 crowded years; they have made us heirs to a mighty heritage.

"But do we deem the Nation complete and finished? These venerable men crowding here to this famous field have set us a great example of devotion and utter sacrifice. They were willing to die that the people might live. But their task is done. Their day is turned into evening. They look to us to perfect what they established. Their work is handed on to us, to be done in another way, but not in another spirit. Our day is not over; it is upon us in full tide.

"Have affairs paused? Does the Nation stand still? Is what the 50 years have wrought since those days of battle finished, rounded out, and completed? Here is a great people, great with every force that has ever beaten in the lifeblood of mankind. And it is secure. There is no one within its borders, there is no power among the nations of the earth, to make it afraid. But has it yet squared itself with its own great standards set up at its birth, when it made that first noble, naive appeal to the moral judgment of mankind to take notice that a government had now at last been established which was to serve men, not masters? It is secure in everything except the satisfaction that its life is right, adjusted to the uttermost to the standards of righteousness and humanity. The days of sacrifice and cleansing are not closed. We have harder things to do than were done in the heroic days of war, because harder to see clearly, requiring more vision, more calm balance of judgment, a more candid searching of the very springs of right.

"Look around you upon the field of Gettysburg! Picture the array, the fierce heats and agony of battle, column hurled against column, battery bellowing to battery! Valor? Yes! Greater no man shall see in war; and self-sacrifice, and loss to the uttermost; the high recklessness of exalted devotion which does not count the cost. We are made by these tragic, epic things to know what it costs to make a nation—the blood and sacrifice of multitudes of unknown men lifted to a great stature in the view of all generations by knowing no limit to their manly willingness to serve. In armies thus marshaled from the ranks of free men you will see, as it were, a nation embattled, the leaders and the led, and may know, if you will, how little except in form its action differs in days of peace from its action in days of war.

"May we break camp now and be at ease? Are the forces that fight for the Nation dispersed, disbanded, gone to their homes forgetful of the common cause? Are our forces disorganized, without constituted leaders and the might of men consciously united because we contend, not with armies, but with principalities and powers and wickedness in high places. Are we content to lie still? Does our union mean sympathy, our peace contentment, our vigor right action, our maturity self-comprehension and a clear confidence in choosing what we shall do? War fitted us for action, and action never ceases.

"I have been chosen the leader of the Nation. I can not justify the choice by any qualities of my own, but so it has come about, and here I stand. Whom do I command? The ghostly hosts who fought upon these battlefields long ago and are gone? These gallant gentlemen stricken in years whose fighting days are over, their glory won? What are the orders for them, and who rallies them? I have in my mind another host, whom these set free of civil strife in order that they might work out in days of peace and settled order the life of a great Nation. That host is the people themselves, the great and the small, without class or difference of kind or race or origin; and undivided

TOO MUCH GOVERNED SAYS MARSE HENRY

Col. Watterson Denounces Regulation of Tastes, Morals and Habits

GOVERNMENT BY HYSTERIA

Famous Kentuckian at Perry Centennial Celebration Inveighs Against Evils of Too Much Legislation—Reviews Past.

Put-in-Bay, O., July 4.—Henry Watterson, vice president general of the Inter-State Perry Centenary Commission, was a speaker at the Perry celebration here today. Col. Watterson announced that this was the last public address he intended to make. In the course of his address, the speaker took occasion to dwell upon what he declared to be "a peril menacing the future of the Republic." He said in part:

"We are told, and most of us believe, that those are best governed who are least governed. Yet we have one big Congress in the Nation's capital, and 48 little congresses in the several State capitals, constantly in session, to make and unmake laws to vex the people and confuse the courts. Inevitably, respect for law is lowered, and here, as elsewhere, familiarity breeds contempt.

"The danger is admitted. Clearly seeing the evils of too much legislation, we call for more. Through chance majorities, stable in nothing, we would regulate the tastes, morals, and habits of the people by act of Assembly.

"Perennially reproaching Congress, we would nevertheless augment the powers of Congress. We are creating a system of centralized bureaucracy and supplementing the civil service with multifarious commissions. We have a standing army of officials. Collectivism, robbing man of his individuality, trusts nothing to the force of nature, to genius of our institutions and the providence of God.

"Yet we disdain alike experience and forecast. We are threatened with government by hysteria, displaying its excess on the one hand by the vainglorious assertion of our grandeur, puissance on the other hand, expressing its humanity through the exploitation of visionary schemes of impossible relief.

"Do I overpaint the picture? Is it but the mocking effigy of an old man's pessimism? Let us not be too sure of ourselves. If we preserve that which Washington and Franklin and Jefferson contemplated; that which Jones and Perry, Harrison and Shelby fought for; that which each side in the war of sections claims it aimed at—intelligent freedom—we shall have done well.

"We have not been so well governed that we may not be better governed. But I would summon reform through reason, not emotion. I would have regeneration come by growth, not by spasm; and so, despite the impatience and unthinking, I look for them to come in their own good time and order; because I have faith in that people who seem chosen of God, in that fabric which seems ordained of God; in the destiny of that land under the blessing of God who in its darkest hour raised up Washington, to defend and Lincoln to save for His own all-wise purpose, and will never suffer the empiric or the sacrilegious to undo the work of his hand.

"Perry nailed to his masthead the brave words of the unconquerable Lawrence: 'Don't give up the ship.' May we not amplify and extend them to embrace the sweep and reach of our institutional system? On land and sea, in glory and in peril, whenever the Republic rides the waves too proudly or is threatened by foes within or without, let us take them as a message from Heaven, and pass them on to our neighbors and teach them to our children, 'Don't give up the ship! Don't give up the ship! Don't give up the ship'!"

In beginning his address, Mr. Watterson said:

"This is an age of centenaries. We have assembled to commemorate a victory gained by the Americans over the British 100 years ago. The year after we are to hold a hundred years of peace between English-speaking peoples. A year still later and we shall solemnize half a century of peace among ourselves. Already at Gettysburg the surviving ones who on either side contended there 50 years ago are mustering to celebrate the event. We cannot tell them apart—distinguish the Federal from the Confederate—all are so well content that government of, and for and by, the people has not perished from the earth.

"After these festivals, it is promised us that perpetual peace shall reign throughout the world. With all my heart, I say 'Amen.' Yet before the final exit of the god of war, may we not without offense, for a moment, wrap the flag about us and with the eagle soar? I am so old-fashioned that I still warm to the bunting and exult in the bird.

"Within the radius of but little further than the eye can reach from where we are gathered all that makes us proud of our country the very rose and expectancy of American manhood—joined heart and hand during the unforgetable Autumn of 1813. Except for the sailors of Rhode Island, the hunters of Kentucky could not have crossed these deeps; except for the hunters of Kentucky, Perry's incomparable exploit had been barren of results. Yet, first let us salute the mother of States. The Nation owes an unextinguishable debt to Virginia. In the war of the Revolution, George Rogers Clark conquered the territory of the great Northwest. In the War of 1812, William Henry Harrison and Isaac Shelby regained and held it.

RICHIE RETAINS THE CHAMPIONSHIP

Knocks Out Rivers in Eleventh Round of the Fight

BITTERLY FOUGHT CONTEST

San Francisco, July 4.—A wicked right-cross—the same blow which was so effective against Ad. Wolgast—proved too great a stumbling block to Joe Rivers in his attempt to wrest the light weight title from Champion Willie Ritchie, at the Eighth Street Open Air Arena here today, the Mexican being knocked out in the eleventh round of a scheduled twenty-round battle.

A Vicious Contest.

The fight throughout was viciously contested, and twice in the earlier rounds it looked as though Rivers might win. Ritchie's wonderful ring generalship and ability to hit effectively straight from the shoulder with either hand, however, offset the Mexican's attack, and it was not long before Rivers became disheartened and pinned his faith solely on wild swings, one of which he hoped would land for a knockout.

Both Eager to Mix.

The battle opened with both men eager to mix at close range. The first round left no choice, but in the second, third and fourth rounds, the Mexican was tigerishly aggressive, and punished the champion severely with swinging blows to the face and body, several of which staggered Ritchie, and caused uneasiness in his corner. The San Francisan rallied in the fifth, and thereafter displayed true championship form. He met the Southerner's wild rushes with snappy left and right smashes to the face, which cut deeply, and easily blocked or evaded the poorly timed swings, many of which were far wide of the mark.

The Champion Confident.

The eleventh and final round had scarcely opened when Ritchie's right shot out straight from the shoulder, catching Rivers squarely on the jaw, and sending him to the mat. Nine seconds were tolled off before the almost helpless fighter regained his feet.

Quickly, the champion's left found the Mexican's stomach, and a right upper-cut reaching the falling pugilist's jaw, sent him prone.

The battle was fought under perfect weather conditions, in the open, and was witnessed by 7,000 persons. The receipts, it was said, aggregated $30,000.

The Start.

There was very little betting at the ringside, and no change in the overnight odds, which favored Ritchie at 10 to 7. In some instances Ritchie money was offered at 10 to 6.

Ritchie entered the ring at 2:21. He was followed immediately by Rivers. Weather conditions were perfect, and the attendance about 7,000. Time was called at 2:29 o'clock.

The Fight by Rounds.

Round 1.—Ritchie met the Mexican's rushes and put in a right upper cut to the jaw. He then whipped right and left to the jaw. Rivers then took command and worried the champion with several lefts to the jaw. Round even.

Round 3.—After Ritchie had driven a forceful left to the jaw the Mexican staggered the champion with two rights to the body and a left to the jaw. Rivers' onslaught was so great

ADDRESSED RURAL LETTER CARRIERS

Mr. O. F. Crowson, of Burlington, Former North Carolina Editor and Secretary of the Rules Committee of the U. S. Senate.

IMPORTANT TARIFF DECISION

Schedules of New Bill Except Wool and Sugar, to Become Effective Immediately After Enactment as a Law.

Washington, July 4.—Majority members of the Senate Finance committee today decided that all schedules of the new tariff bill, except sugar and wool, should become effective immediately after the enactment of the measure into law.

Sugar, with the approval of the Democratic caucus will be subject to the Payne-Aldrich rates until March 1st, 1914. The committee tentatively agreed upon a date for the wool schedule, but did not announce it, because of a promise to confer with Senators Walsh and Thomas, who could not be reached today. The committee will confer with them tomorrow before the final esssion of the caucus.

Additional revenue was provided for by the committee when it decided, in view of the revenue tax on brandies used in fortifying sweet wines, to levy a revenue tax of 25 per cent. ad valorem on what are known as "spurious wines," wines made from pumis and fortified with chemicals.

Containers of such wines must bear a label, showing what materials enter into the product. Just haw much revenue will be derived from this, the committee could not estimate, because the tax probably will curtail the output considerably.

Another change proposed relates to the clause prohibiting importation of convict-made goods. It was amended so as to read that such goods be excluded from countries which do not "prohibit" convict labor. Originally the clause read from countries which do not "restrict" convict labor.

Chairman Simmons said today that he expected general debate on the bill to begin a week from Monday. He will report the measure probably next Wednesday, and it is his opinion that the debate will be limited to five weeks.

Regarding the binding resolution which will be adopted by the caucus tomorrow, Senator Simmons said that its provisions would bind every Democratic Senator who did not withdraw from the caucus, whether he voted for the resolution or against it, or even if he were absent when the vote was taken, unless he had previously pledged himself to his constituency to vote against some rate or principle involved in the bill. The Senator's attention had been called to the fact that Senator Thompson had gone to his home in Kansas and could not attend the caucus tomorrow.

"Senator Thompson has given no notice that he desires to be freed from the caucus pledge," said Senator Simmans, "and the resolution would bind him just as much as any other Senator. In fact, I am assured that Senator Thompson intends to support the bill."

The amendment to the bill fixing a stamp tax on cotton sales sold for future delivery, members of the committee believe will bring in considerable revenue. Though the primary design of the amendment to abolish stock exchange gambling in cotton futures, it is the general opinion that it will not do so, but that it will considerably curtail it.

"Should the stamp tax on cotton future deals fail to curtail this form of stock dealing," Senator Simmons said today, "the revenue to the government would be enormous."

CITY LEAGUE GAMES

Two Interesting Exhibitions to be Staged at Hilton Today

As usual, two games will be played in the City League today, the first game at 3 o'clock between Company B and the Giants. Batteries will be Register and McClellan; Holt and Moore. The league's two premier pitchers will be opposed in this game and patrons may expect a bang up game.

The second game, between the Athletics and the Rattlers, starts promptly at 5 o'clock. Batteries will be Bell and Bell; Boswell and Wilson. Two college players wil be seen in this game, Terry, of A. & M., and Thompson, of Trinity.

TWO KILLED IN AUTO TRAGEDY

Death Rides in Race With "Hero of Indianapolis Speedway"—Car Turns Turtle at Seventy-mile Gate

Columbus, Ohio, July 4.—Harry C. Knight, of Indianapolis, known as the "Hero of the Indianapolis Speedway," was almost instantly killed and his machinician, Milton McAllis, of Houston, Texas, was so badly injured that he died here this afternoon when Knight's front wheel drive car blew a right tire and turned turtle on the 110th lap of the 200-mile automobile race contested under the auspices of the Columbus Automobile Association.

Knight had been out of the race for 30 minutes because of engine trouble, and had just re-entered. He was said to have been running at 70 miles an hour when the accident occurred. Johnny Jenkins, of Springfield, Ohio, was following Knight at a short distance, and according to some of the witnesses, ran over Knight's body which had fallen to the track. Jenkins declared he ran over something, but doesn't know whether it was a body or a part of a machine.

Horribly Mutilated

Knight's head was badly crushed and the top part torn off. His legs were driven to his arms pits and the rest of the body badly mutilated.

McAllis, who was 24 years of age, died in a hospital tonight. He had suffered a fractured skull and concussion of the brain.

When the tire blew up the car turned over twice and landed in an upright position. McAllis was thrown out at the first turn. Knight was pinned under his steering wheel, but fell out just as the car finally righted. He died almost immediately after assistance reached his side. Ralph DePalma following close on the heels of Knight and Jenkins, was running at a high rate of speed but managed to shave by the wrecked car without smashing into it.

Thousands Witness Accident

The accident occurred almost immediately in front of the grandstand, and was witnessed by thousands of spectators.

Although Knight gave his residence at Indianapolis, his parents live at Jonesboro, Ind., near Marion. He was 23 years of age. He gained the title of "Hero of the Indianapolis Speedway" several years ago, when he smashed into a brick wall in preference to running down a driver who had been thrown from his car to the track.

Just before he resumed the race, Knight had been officially declared out of it, because of time lost with engine trouble. Regardless of the officials he re-entered.

Mulford Won Race

Ralph Mulford won the race, breaking the world's record for 200 miles on a dirt track. He made the distance in three hours, 21 minutes and 48 seconds. The previous best time was made on the Columbus track by Spencer Wishart in three hours, 28 minutes and 4 1-2 seconds.

Harry Endicott was second, with the time of three hours, 45 minutes and 34 and 55-100 seconds. Ernest Reeder was third, with the time of three hours, 47 minutes, 53 and 65-100 seconds. Ralph DePalma finished fourth, and just within the prize money with the time of four hours, 42 61-100 seconds. Prizes aggregated $5,000.

OLD SOLDIERS FIGHT.

Inmates of Home at Raleigh Battle Fiercely—In Hospital.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Raleigh, N. C., July 4.—Seth Jones, of Raleigh, and Pink Rea, of Matthews, N. C., two feeble old Confederate soldiers in the Soldiers' Home here, so afflicted that they spend most of their time in roller chairs, had a fight at the home that raged fiercely until attendants separated them. They had hated each other some time. It seems, and today managed to roll their chairs close enough together to go at it first and skull, with the result that both are in the hospital. They fought so gamely that each won the other's admiration, so they shook hands and "buried the hatchet," so to speak.

RURAL CARRIERS ADJOURN MEETING

Final Session Featured by Address by Editor O. F. Crowson

NEW SET OF OFFICERS NAMED

Pleasant and Profitable Convention Brought to a Close Yesterday—Next Meeting in Burlington—Resolutions Adopted

The North Carolina Rural Letter Carriers' Association closed its tenth annual convention yesterday at 1 o'clock with the installation of an entirely new set of officers for the coming year. The next meeting will be held at Burlington, and the date is left optional with the executive committee. One of the features of the meeting yesterday was an address by Mr. O. F. Crowson, clerk to the rules committee of Congress, who came as the personal representative of Senator Overman.

The election of officers precipitated a lively contest with the result that an entirely new corps were elected. They are as follows:

President—E. L. Wright, Ruffin.

Vice President—D. B. Honeycutt, Raleigh.

Secretary and Treasurer—J. A. Lowe, Burlington.

Executive Committee—Thad M. Lutz, chairman, Henry; A. S. Barnes, Wilson; J. H. Mills, Monroe.

Chaplain—D. N. Hunt, Oxford.

The session opened yesterday with memorial exercises in honor of the carriers of the association who have died since the last meeting, and was in charge of Chaplain D. N. Hunt. A large number took part in the exercises. A collection of $20 was taken for the widow of Thomas F. Cornwell. Following is the list of members who have died: Thomas S. Cornwell, Guss McKenzie, J. A. Bridge, John Wesley Hunt, Marville Brown, Walter Baker.

Mr. C. G. Himmelwright, of Newport News, Va., postoffice inspector for eastern North Carolina and Virginia, made a very practical and interesting talk to the carriers on "The Parcel Post." He explained in detail the new C. O. D. feature which was inaugurated July 1st. A large part of his address was devoted to answering questions and explaining points that were not clear to the carriers in regard to all branches of the service.

Following the talk by Mr. Himmelwright Mr. O. F. Crowson, a well-known newspaper man of Burlington, who is clerk to the rules committee of the United States Senate, delivered a splendid address which was listened to with the greatest interest by the carriers.

Mr. Crowson's Address

In his address to the carriers, Mr. Crowson said:

"Mr. Chairman: Your invitation to me to make a speech reminds me of the story of a little boy.

"A new baby came to his home and he was invited to take a look at the newcomer. He looked the little fellow over and turning to his father he asked: 'Paw, can he talk?' He was told that he could not talk. 'Well, can he walk?' He was told that he could not walk. 'Has he any hair?' No hair. 'Well has he any teeth?' He was told that he had no teeth.

"With a look of disgust the boy turned away and motioned his father to step over in the corner with him. Lowering his voice so that the newcomer could not hear him, he said, 'Paw, you are stung. You had better send him back.'

"If you are expecting a speech from me you are stung, better send me back.

"A half century from today great and magnificent granite shafts will be erected in honor of the pioneer rural letter carriers and the work done by yourselves, but I want to assure you that even today your work is being appreciated, and the rural mail service takes its place as one of the few great factors that are building up the rural sections of our country.

"As the ribbons of steel circle the mountains and the plains and the giant locomotives carry thousands of railroad cars from city to city, increasing the commercial facilities of our great Nation, so the rural mail carriers wind their way over hill and dale, going into the remotest sections, carrying into the home of the farmer messages from the busy world, market quotations, etc., keeping them in touch with the great centers of business and commerce, making the rural citizen the most independent man in the world.

"In the future, as the stories are told of the great and wonderful developments of the Nation, the rural letter carrier will go down in history as one of the most important factors in this development. As he forges his way into the mountains and into the remote rural districts, carrying knowledge and enlightenment, carrying the blessings of the world to the man who toils long and late in the fields, he is doing a work that is done by none other except the missionary and the pioneer.

"The future has great things in store for the farmer and the rural inhabitant because of the conveniences that are being carried to his door. The rural telephone, good roads, free daily delivery of mail are conveniences that are making his life and occupation ideal. Already the automobile is replacing the old family carriage; the daily paper the country weekly, and the telephone is taking the place of the Sunday meeting for local and neighborhood communication. The rural mail carrier has been the forerunner of all these improvements and advancements.

"A hundred years ago the Red Man stood upon the mountain top and saw the flashing lightning and looked at

Giants Defeated Dodgers Twice, and Phils Took Two from Braves —Cubs and Reds Split— Cards Win and Tie

The National League games of yesterday, replete with opportunities for upsetting the dope all the way down the line, developed no startling developments, and from the eight games pulled off only one change in position occurs this morning, the Chicago Cubs taking third place in lieu of the Brooklyn Dodgers, who go down the line to fourth place again.

New York Giants won both the morning and afternoon session from the Brooklyn Superbas, thus showing their gratitude for the manner in which the Dodgers rallied to their assistance last week and placed them at the head of the column. Tesreau was invincible in the morning affair, allowing only four scattered hits, while Marquard came back with another win in the afternoon, although hit hard.

The Phillies, after dropping three out of four games to the Dodgers and four straights on top of that to the Giants, came back and won both ends yesterday from the Boston Braves, somewhat weaker opponents than the Giants.

The Chicago Cubs and Cincinnati Reds split a double bill. Ames, who was not good enough for the New York Giants, pitched the afternoon game for Cincinnati, and was almost invincible, allowing just six hits.

The St. Louis Cardinals and the Pittsburg Pirates played an eleven-inning tie game in the morning, and St. Louis won the afternoon game, 12 to 8.

WITH THE MOVIES

Holiday crowds flocked to the handsome Grand yesterday and there witnessed a superb show, as well as finding a fine retreat from the sizzling weather. Today the modern theatre will come forward with another swell bill, one that will tickle the fancy of every one and that will make a swell week-end offering for amusement-lovers of this city, who can revel in comfort while enjoying a big show. The films for today are all good ones, being as follows:

"The Amateur Lion Tamer," a great animal and circus picture for the children, a Vitagraph; "Bill," Essanay's bully good comedy with clever and eccentric situations. Selig's wonderful war picture, "A Revolutionary Romance."

The Bijou Today.

The popular Bijou celebrated the glorious Fourth in most glorious manner, playing to capacity houses in the afternoon and night, and has prepared to follow up yesterday's big bill with one of superb nature today. It will offer as one of its star features "The Old Veteran in Town," especially appropriate on account of the Gettysburg reunion. The noted actor, Mr. Charles Kent, will appear in the title role. Another notable triumph is Edison's wonderful modern society drama, "A Reluctant Cinderella." Still another star will be Pathe's "The Price of Silence," which is a fascinating tale of the stage.

AUTO ENDURANCE RACE

First Contest of Its Kind in New Mexico

Albuquerque, N. M., July 4.—Five out of nine cars finished at Sante-Fe today in the first half of the first automobile endurance race to be run in New Mexico, Albuquerque the starting and finishing place. Four cars were put out of commission between Albuquerque and Domingo, 36 miles away, because of engine trouble and injuries to cars. A Velie car, driven by Jack Weighman, made the best time, doing the 62 miles in 2:02:09. The cars left Santa-Fe on the return trip at 3 o'clock.

ATHLETICS DROPPED A GAME

But Came Back With Win in Afternoon—Senators Split Even— White Sox and Browns Split —Naps Took Two

The eight games played in the American League yesterday resulted in no changes of position in the league, most of the games being split up evenly between the teams. The Cleveland Naps were the only ones who had the honor of carrying off both ends of the double-header scheduled for Independence Day, having defeated the Detroit Tigers in both the morning and afternoon contentions.

The leading feature of the day was the morning game at Boston which the Athletics dropped by the terrific score of 13 to 6. But they came back in the afternoon with a win, five to three.

The Naps took both games from the Tigers, Vean Gregg being again retired on account of the extreme heat in the afternoon.

The Senators split a double-header with the New York Highlanders, winning the morning contention and dropping the afternoon affair. Groom pitched the entire morning game, and Mullin and Hughes officiated at the afternoon argument.

The White Sox and St. Louis Browns split their double bill, the locals taking the morning game while the White Sox walked off with the afternoon game.

Athletics Take a Licking

Boston, July 4.—Hooper dropped a line drive from Strunk's bat in the eighth inning of the afternoon game today allowing Philadelphia to score three runs and enabling the visitors to win from Boston by a score of 5 to 3. The morning game called in the seventh resulted, Boston 13; Philadelphia 6. In the afternoon contest Boston held the lead until the eighth inning.

WILDING DEFEATS M'LAUGHLIN.

New Zealander Retains Singles Lawn Tennis Championship.

Wimbledon, Eng., July 4.—A. F. Wilding, of New Zealand, holder of the title of all-England singles lawn tennis champion since 1910, retained the championship today, by beating Maurice E. McLoughlin, of San Francisco, National lawn tennis champion of the United States, by three straight sets, 8-6, 6-3, 10-8.

The doubles championship was won by H. Roper Barrett and C. P. Dixon, of Great Britain, the title holders, who beat Friedrich Wilhelm Rahe and Heinrich Kleinshroth, of Germany, the challengers, by three sets to one 6-2, 6-4, 4-6, 6-2.

The ladies' double was won by Mrs. McNair and Miss R. P. Boothy, who beat Mrs. Sterry and Mrs. Lambert Chambers. The latter pair retired after the second set because Mrs. Sterry strained a leg muscle.

Windling played the greatest game of his life. The match from start to finish was of the heroic order, but while the American made many brilliant recoveries, he proved hardly a match for his other and more experienced opponent. He suffered, too, somewhat from ill luck and his service was not up to his best, being as a rule much weaker than in the previous matches he had played since his arrival in England. His first service many times resulted in a fault. Wilding, on the other hand, was at the top of his form.

When the two opponents faced each other at the start of the match the physical disparity between them was at once evident. Wilding is a grown, broad shouldered man beside whom McLaughlin looked like a boy.

After the match, McLoughlin, who was greatly disappointed, only paid a little regard to his defeat. He said: "Wilding played a magnificent game."

As to his own form, he thought his backhand had weakened. Throughout the match the crowd was numbered 7,000 which was, according to McLoughlin considering its dimensions, sportsmanlike and impartial in ts conduct.

VERBECK THE WINNER

Panama Pacific Automobile Race from Los Angeles to Sacramento

Sacramento, Cal., July 4.—Verbeck, driving a Fiat, won the Panama-Pacific automobile race from Los Angeles to Sacramento today. His time was 11 hours and one minute.

A Cadillac, Soules driving, was second to enter the park at 11:27:16, making the running time from Los Angeles in 11 hours, 26 minutes and 16 seconds.

This time for the Cadillac was 26 minutes behind the Fiat.

Barney Oldfied, ina Fiat, was third to arrive, covering the course in 11 hours, 22 minutes, 53 seconds, giving him second place.

Verbeck left Los Angeles at 12:17 A. M., and covered the 443.6 miles without mishap.

A persistent rumor that Harris Hanshue, piloting an Apperson, had been killed, proved incorrect. His car went into a ditch near Fresno, but he was not hurt.

C. C. Willeford, shared in the victory as he drove the winning car to Banter's field, where he was relieved by Verbeck.

A. C. L. AND CHADBOURN.

Broke Even in Double-Header Yesterday in Strawberry Town.
(Special Star Telegram.)

Chadbourn, N. C., July 4.—Wilmington's famous A. C. L. team broke even with Chadbourn in a double-header here today. Coast Line won the morning game by a score of 10 to 1. The features of the game were the all-around playing of the Coast Line and pitching of Higgie for Chadbourn. Batteries for Wilmington, Russ and Wilson; for Chadbourn, Higgie and Tate.

The afternoon game was one of the best ever played on the local diamond, in which Chadbourn won by a score of 4 to 1, the features of the game being the pitching of Devane, who handled the spit-ball to perfection, only allowing two hits and striking out 13 men; and the all-around playing of the Chadbourn team. Batteries, for Wilmington, Sherman, Green and Wilson; for Chadbourn, Devane and Tate.

THOUSANDS AT LUMBERTON

Robeson County Celebrated the Glorious Fourth in Big and Successful Way—Birdman Soared High.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Lumberton, N. C., July 4.—Robeson county's celebration of the Fourth brought to Lumberton today a crowd of 10,000 to 12,000 people. It has been a most successful day in every way, thoroughly enjoyed by all.

Two successful aeroplane flights, a ball game, a speech and a parade were the principal features of the day and there were several minor attractions.

Senator Lee S. Overman, who was to have been the orator of the occasion, wired late yesterday afternoon that it wouldn't be possible for him to come, his physician who performed an operation on him some time ago having advised him that on account of his exhausted condition due to his work as chairman of the Lobby Committee and in the Democratic caucus, a rest of a few days was imperative, but he sent to fill his place Solicitor W. C. Hammer, of Randolph county, who filled the bill well and made a rousing good speech.

Most of the people came not to hear a speech, though, but to see a man fly and they were abundantly satisfied. Mr. John Kaminski, of Milwaukee, 18 years old, the youngest licensed aviator in the world, made two entirely successful flights.

During the first flight he circled several times around the field from which he rose, near the old public school building in the northeastern part of town, near the ball ground, and during the second flight he flew over town twice, going over the court house and other buildings, and the town standpipe. He did some little stunts in the air, too, like "the ocean wave." Everybody was delighted with the flying exhibition. Mr. Kaminski used a Curtiss biplane. He stayed up about 15 minutes the first time, and a few minutes longer than that the second time. His highest flying was at an altitude of about 1,400 feet. Mr. Kaminski says this country looks beautiful from up in the air.

A surprise feature of the parade was a "suffragette parade," a bunch of young ladies with a few young men falling in line for a few blocks, bearing a banner with the legend "Votes for Women."

There were 18 or 20 mounted marshals from all over the county, with Mr. W. K. Bethune, of Lumberton, chief, and there were some pretty floats.

The ball game between Maxton and Fairmont resulted in the victory for Fairmont, by the score of 7 to 4, the feature of the game was a ball hit over the fence by one of the men of the "Bloomer Girl" team, which team was crowded out of a game by an edict of Mayor White, three of the men of this team playing with Fairmont.

The best of order was maintained throughout the day. A very few men got too much booze or board, but they were quietly taken care of. The picture shows and other attractions about town did a good business all day and the merchants who sell cold drinks, lunches, etc., have never known such a day's business.

The crowd and the success of the day in every way passed the most sanguine expectations of the promoters of this celebration. The business part of town was beautifully and profusely decorated.

SAMPSON FARMER KILLED.

Lightning Plays Havoc Around Clinton—New Railroad Assured.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Clinton, N. C., July 4.—A severe wind, rain, and thunder storm visited this section yesterday afternoon. Lightning struck in several places and did considerable damage. Mr. Redman Herring, a well known farmer and leading citizen of Sampson county, saw the storm approaching and taking his mule from the plow sought shelter at home. As he was unharnessing the mule under a spreading oak in his yard, lightning struck the tree, killing Mr. Herring and his mule instantly. A daughter standing near was badly shocked.

Mr. Herring was the Democratic nominee for register of deeds of this county in the last campaign and had a wide acquaintance. He leaves a widow and a large family of children, some of them of tender years. The funeral will be conducted this afternoon at the family residence a mile west of Clinton, and the interment will be in Clinton cemetery.

During the storm lightning came into the Bank of Sampson on a wire and struck Mr. John R. Peterson, chairman of the board of commissioners of Sampson county, burning his arm and leg slightly and shocking him badly. Mr. Peterson sank to the floor, but soon recovered and does not seem to have sustained any serious injury. The residence of Mr. C. F. Herring, a mile east of town, was struck and damaged considerably. Several persons were in the house but escaped injury.

The Fourth of July was celebrated becomingly here today. Quite a crowd was in town and the Masonic fraternity had its annual special meeting and picnic. The address was delivered by Rev. J. L. Everton, pastor of the Universalist church.

The extension of the Durham & Southern railroad from Dunn to Clinton now seems assured and with this northern outlet Clinton has hopes of great growth and business activity in the near future. Station site and rights of way have been procured and the work of constructing the road is expected to begin soon.

QUIET FOURTH AT KINSTON.

Business Suspended for First Time. Crowds to the Coast.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Kinston, N. C., July 4.—All business closed down in Kinston today in celebration of Independence day for the first time in the city's history. Although there was no programme of any sort carried out, practially every shop in the business district except the drug stores shut up by an agreement of the merchants and every train going out of the city during the day carried hosts of Kinstonians to the seaside.

C. E. Hicks, of this city, claims to be the only successful alfalfa grower in the section. Having had experience in its growing in the West, Mr. Hicks is experimenting with it in a back lot here and has a successful stand. He has produced 20-inch stalks with roots a foot long. He claims that with proper care at the starting of a crop, it can be profitably grown in eastern Carolina, and will probably try to raise larger crops.

FROM SERGEANT TO COLONEL.

Col. Thos. Perdue, of Lenoir County, Has Unique Distinction.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Kinston, N. C., July 4.—Col. Thos. Perdue, of Falling Creek, at the head of a delegation of Lenoir county Confederate veterans at Gettysburg, has a distinction borne by no other veteran now at the historic battleground. He was brevetted by circumstances at Gettysburg from the guide of a company to the command of a regiment. "Colonel" Perdue was not a colonel at all at the beginning of the three days fight, but only a sergeant, and when the officers of his regiment were all killed or incapacitated he was the senior non-commissioned officer and assumed command of the corps for a short time. The title of "colonel" was won by him at this time, and has since stuck to him. He is the only colonel at Gettysburg who never had a commission of that rank.

NARROW ESCAPE IN SURF.

Wife of Sheriff Taylor of Lenoir County Has Close Call.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Kinston, N. C., July 4.—Mrs. A. W. Taylor, wife of the sheriff of Lenoir county, narrowly escaped drowning at Morehead City, according to a report received here. Mrs. Taylor, with two young ladies from this city, was in the surf at Bogue Banks, across the sound at Morehead City, and when a comber broke the trio apart, she lost control of herself and was swept some distance out. She experienced several nervous minutes before her companions went to her rescue.

To Have Perfect Skin Throughout the Summer

(From The Guide to Beauty.)

These days the face and neck need special care and attention. Flying dust and dirt, the beating sun, are severe on any skin. Their despoiling effects are best overcome by the application of pure mercolized wax. This keeps skin and pores in a cleanly condition, the complexion beautifully white and spotless. Tan, freckles, blotches and roughened cuticle are actually absorbed by it. One ounce of mercolized wax, obtainable at any drug store, is sufficient to completely renovate a soiled complexion. It is used like cold cream, allowed to remain on over night, and washed off in the morning.

As the skin tends to expand in warm weather, causing wrinkles to form, a good astringent lotion should be used. Dissolve one ounce powdered saxolite in one-half pint witch hazel. Bathe the face in this during the heat of the day or before going out for theatre or social affair. It is a remarkable skin tightener and wrinkle eraser.

There would be no lobby at Washington if there were no special interests who are willing to pay for getting millions out of the people.

Says the Columbia State: "Uncle Sam closed the fiscal year with a deficit." Here's hoping we won't have two of them on the 30th of next June.

The fortune of $465,000 left by a New York corset manufacturer who died recently is but a small part of the money that goes to waist in this country.

The Dove of Peace was at Gettysburg this week, but at one of the hotels a few swallows got some of the old boys into a fight over the fool remark of some jay.

Most men are scared when they are in battle, but they would rather die than be scared enough to run unless everybody else decides to make the run at the same time.

A Western man complains that his wife clucks in her sleep. The only way he can break her from it is to tell her that it is a sign that she is anything else than a Spring chicken.

Old portraits of distinguished men and women ought to bring a high price, as they can be made to serve the purpose of pictures of ancestors among those individuals who need them in their business.

Millions of people in the South have never heard the "rebel yell". If we don't do our duty by the old Johnnies, they ought to come at us with that yell and wake us up to our duty to the greatest soldiers that ever fell into line when the order was given to charge.

A "dollar dinner" at a banquet consists of 25 cents worth of dinner and 75 cents worth of suavity on the part of the waiter. The waiter's idea of those he so affably serves can better be expressed after the dinner party uses the finger bowls and files out without showing appreciation.

The nattily dressed, self possessed, self confessed, complacent David Lamar, who laughed and was gleeful when he told about impersonating Congressmen and playing the role of scoundrel under various names, shows how blunted a man may become to the consciousness of honor and self respect.

July 1st the right to vote was given to the women of Illinois, about a million, six hundred thousand of them; and now we want another election to hurry up and come so we can see what we shall see. One thing we expect to see, is a regular Wrightsville Beach variety of prohibition in the Prairie State.

When President Wilson openly declared that insidious lobbying was going on around Washington, he seemed to have discovered something that no Senator or Representative seems to have noticed. If they had seen the nigger in the woodpile they have signally failed to rush forward to ring in an alarm.

Congress kept on investigating till something has been said that calls for an investigation of Congres. The House, incensed at the Mulhall charges rebecting on the integrity of its members, already has taken steps to thoroughly probe the charges. Why not appoint a special investigation commission that will not be biased, or, at any rate, will not be incensed against the chief witness without knowing whether he is telling the truth or whether he is simply an unprincipled, unmitigated, incorrigible and malevolent liar?

A NORTH CAROLINA PORT.

The Star has insisted that it largely depends upon the press to secure State co-operation in developing a deep water ocean gateway for North Carolina. Some of the editors have taken up the matter and are doing splendid work along that line. The daily press has been quite active of late in emphasizing the advantages of the Cape Fear ocean outlet and impressing upon the people of the State the necessity of a deep water port as the most effectual means of securing lower freight rates for North Carolina. Their work is greatly appreciated in Wilmington, but no article is more appreciated than one which appeared in "Sky Land", the attractive and valuable magazine recently started at Hendersonville. From the July number of that excellent publication we take the following editorial:

"The eyes of North Carolina are turned these days toward Wilmington—the natural port and the coming-to-be port of North Carolina. With ocean navigation, 700 miles of inland water navigation and six distributing railway lines Wilmington stands ready to become one of the larger communities and North Carolinians are ready and willing to help along the coming.

"Located about 20 miles from the pathway of the Ocean to Ocean ships as well as those engaged in the Gulf traffic, Wilmington and Southport, the North Carolina ocean gateway, is eligible to become the Panama port, particularly of that portion of the Ocean route south of Hatteras. Certainly Wilmington and Southport is to be at least a port of call and really there can be no reason assigned for the failure of that good city to become a coaling station.

"It is beyond dispute that the geographic location of Wilmington and Southport marks that port as the logical station. With unexcelled rail transportation facilities for both raw materials and manufactured products, to be sent to all parts of the world by ship and to the interior by rail, Wilmington stands in line to become one of the greatest distribution centers.

"As a manufacturing center Wilmington is coming to the front rapidly and there is a still brighter future for that progressive city. The men of affairs are broad-minded and have wide vision and they have seen the opportunity and are taking advantage of location and are building for the future. The annual output of manufactured products amounts to $20,000,000 and this goes out both by rail and water for the plants have both rail and water terminals. Wilmington is the second port south of Baltimore in the value of its foreign products and it stands fourth in the world's ports for the distribution of cotton. It is very truthfully said that it is Wilmington's location on the Atlantic and her reach into the productive South that gives Wilmington preeminence and assures that splendidly growing city ultimate supremacy.

"The success of Wilmington means the success of North Carolina and every town and city of the Old North State will join with the citizens of Wilmington in the efforts to bring larger prosperity to the North Carolina port."

Articles like that will soon educate all portions of the State up to the importance of supporting any effort undertaken to make a deep water port at Wilmington and Southport. That North Carolina is badly in need of a port upon which an argument can be based, it is only necessary to point to the fact that Virginia has North Carolina "skinned" on rates simply and solely because of her deep water port at Norfolk. When that is so evident and so broadly acknowledged, the next thing in order is to convince the North Carolina people that their opportunity for a deep water port is at Wilmington and Southport, where this State has double opportunities for demonstrating the advantages of water competition in bringing about a solution of the rate problem that exists from the sea to the mountains.

We do not think there would be much difficulty now in securing the co-operation of every city and town in the State, but there can be no co-operation unless there is a movement in which co-operation can be asked and undertaken. Appreciating the potentialities of the Cape Fear ocean gateway, wishing well to the port, and having hope in its development, is not co-operation. We must agree upon a definite port plan and then appeal for and get the co-operation of every city and town from the seashore to the mountains. If Wilmington does not start something in which there can be co-operation, no action of a co-operative kind can be taken by Charlotte, Greensboro, Winston-Salem, Raleigh, Durham, Fayetteville, Asheville, Henderson, and all other manufacturing centers of the State.

It is as highly important and absolutely imperative to convince Wilmington that it ought to take some kind of initiative about the port as it is to convince interior cities that they should co-operate in such a movement. We are too slow in taking advantage of the opportunity that exists in an actual crisis brought about by the rate situation throughout the State. There is not a community that isn't stirred up on this question now, and none should be given an opportunity to have its ardor cooled by delay or procrastination. Right now while the rate fever is high is the time for Wilmington to move.

Next thing we know, the interior will start something and ask for the co-operation of Wilmington. Mr. Maxwell's suggestion about the need of steamship service has been hailed throughout the State as something new. It is an old and oft repeated story hammered on by The Star year in and year out, and if the initiative had been taken here Wilmington would have secured the credit that now goes to a forward looking man at Raleigh. That comes from failure to get in the game when the chances are good to win hands over fist.

Wilmington and Southport should not delay in agreeing upon a port plan and in starting a determined campaign to secure the co-operation of the State. A part of that plan should be the immediate deepening of the water on the bar so heavy draft vessels can come into Southport if they cannot come up to Wilmington. The chief object, however, should be the construction of a breakwater at the bar. It would not only protect the bar so it can hold its own in all sorts of weather, but engineers and sea captains agree that it would scour out the bar, so that it would be easy to maintain a depth of from 30 to 36 feet at mean low water. Meanwhile, work on a 30-foot channel to Wilmington can proceed and be completed in two years, so able engineers have stated time and again.

While a port plan can be adopted, with those and other port and harbor improvements in view, a plan also can be adopted to secure commerce for the port. That is the only way to secure commerce, even if the channel were a hundred feet deep.

WITH THE STATE LAWYERS.

Those who were present enjoyed a distinct privilege in hearing the addresses of Judge Robert W. Winston and Governor Thomas J. Jarvis Thursday night at the meeting of the Bar Association in Asheville. Judge Winston's subject was the very live one of reform in judicial procedure, a reform that is distressingly needed in North Carolina. The importance given to trivial and harmless technicalities, the delays and the endless dragging along of lawsuits and oft-times the escape of guilty men, have lowered the courts in the estimation of the people, and the proposed judicial recall is the very natural outcome of such a situation. Simple procedure, rapid transaction of business, speedy justice — these are needed to take the place of the cumbersome, outworn system which obtains in North Carolina—a way of doing things that England and progressive States in America have discarded these many years.

"The Grand Old Man" discussed the Lawyer, His Opportunities and His Failures," and we can well believe that "his hearers leaned forward in their seats to catch his every word," for Governor Jarvis is indeed "the most distinguished and best known living North Carolinian." In every crises, when men's minds have run riot, his voice has risen above the tumult, and men have listened as to an oracle. He expressed his undying opposition to the initiative, referendum and recall, which will be recommended to the next Legislature for incorporation into the State Constitution—"the alien banner with the strange device;" and he will have nothing to do with the proposal that women be given the ballot.

"The only thing I bow down to on this earth." he said, "is woman * * * but I would never consent to tear her from her throne in the home and cast her into the mire of political strife."

To the young lawyers the sage advised three principles: Never forget that they are gentlemen; never forget that they are citizens; and never forget that there is something else in the practice of law besides money; that which in their declining years will afford most satisfaction will not be the money they have made, but the services they have rendered.

The lawyers have it in their nands to be of vast service to North Carolina, as they have been in the past—to promote the reform of judicial procedure and to keep the ideals of t he profession as held aloft by Governor Jarvis.

WE ARE ALL "IT"

Noting that Prof. Chas. L Coon, in his article, "The Beginnings of the North Carolina City Schools," in the current number of the South Atlantic Quarterly, gives Wilmington credit for having in 1873 established the first graded schools in the State; and noting also that Professor Coon refers to the establishment in 1875 of graded schools in both Charlotte and Greensboro, the Charlotte Observer says: "It doesn't matter so much which of these three towns had the first graded school as which now has the best—and coming to that, Charlotte is 'it.'"

Easy, beloved. We know you couldn't very well help saying that, but inasmuch as Wilmington's schools, and for that matter, Greensboro's also, are so near the last word in modern public educational development, you might very well have made it a trio instead of a solo and have made us all "it." Wilmington not only lead in the graded school movement, but she has kept in the lead, and only the other day voted $175,000 to increase what a good many people thought were already pretty fair educational facilities. The report of Superintendent John J. Blair published in The Star several days ago, shows that our schools are to embrace all the diverse interests of everyday life. The boys are to be taught something of useful trades and occupations, and the girls are to be instructed in domestic science. When this last money has been invested in facilities for giving the State well-rounded, first-class citizens, Wilmington will have schools that cannot be surpassed by anything anywhere. And we have thought aforetime that we were doing pretty well. However, we can very gracefully concede to Charlotte and Greensboro abundant room to sit beside us. The city schools of the State are in the most part of such a character as to enable us all to point with pride.

THE LOCAL BILL NUISANCE

One of the best recommendations that the legislative committee on amendments to the State Constitution will make to the Governor and the Legislature in the special session to be held in the next few months, is the one that would transfer the mass of petty local legislation from the General Assembly to the municipal or county governing bodies. This nuisance with each succeeding Legislature grows more and more of a burden. It eats up very valuable time, time which is paid for by the taxpayers, and paid for well, and also has the effect of delaying really important State-wide legislaton, which hardly ever gets the consideration that it should be given. A member of the last Senate told The Star only recently that as an important a matter as the revenue act was not even read by any considerable number of legislators, and was rushed through at the last minute without the members as a whole having any idea what was in it. We are all aware that time and again important bills become laws without the scrutiny they should have, and that as a result defects appear or the law is construed to mean something that was not intended.

The Legislature's attention ought to be given over entirely to those measures which are of vital importance to the whole State. Flea Hill ought to be able to prohibit hogs roosting under one of its churches.

EDUCATIONAL EXPERTS NEEDED

We very heartily endorse the suggestion that the State Board of Education should be composed of men who are especially fitted for the manifold duties of that position. Our State Board of Health is composed of men trained in science, who know disease, its causes, its dissemination, its prevention and its cure. Why shouldn't the State Board of Education be composed of educational experts instead of State officers who, however much they may favor the educational interests of the State, are men whose training, duties and purposes differ from those of educators whose whole lives are taken up with the problems of the schools. It seems to us that through all the ramifications of school government we have too much overlooked the necessity of putting school men in governing capacity. The machinery has been too much operated by others than those who ought to know most about it.

Secretry Joe Daniels can very well talk about keeping cool because such weather is good on what it takes to balance off trade—and him a-settin' in the Navy Department with that wrinkly linen suit on, surrounded by electric fans; but if he had to be out chopping the staple to make it grow, like the rest of us, he would sing another song.

Nobody who knew him believed for a moment that Congressman Yates Webb, of the Seventh district was ever remotely connected with the Mulhall business.

Under Greensboro's commission form of government they are paying off bonds instead of refunding them.

CURRENT COMMENT.

Mr. Scott McCallum presented us with a new fruit Tuesday. It looked like a pomegranate but was really a cucumber called the "lemon cucumber." We now invite Cols. Clawson and Harris to turn away from their little old canned goods and dine like a Lord with us on lemon cucumbers, cool, refreshing and as substantial as a sea breeze or a mountain gale.—Maxton Scottish Chief.

Let Wrightsville wire her condolences to San Bernardino, Cal. With the exception of one single spot, there is not an oasis left in the Mohave desert. County supervisors have dried up its stretch of 200 miles.—Charlotte Observer.

Let us give you a tip—Unless all signs fail and The Chronicle is misinformed good results are going to come from this agitation begun by Mr. A. J. Maxwell for an independent steamship line between Wilmington and New York.—Charlotte Chronicle.

It was only a few weeks ago that the papers were full of the adventures of the Wilmington men who were caught by the wire-tappers in New York, yet only last week a Clinton man was relieved of $1,000 and a Charlotte man of $700 by the same gamesters. Even the newspapers cannot save 'em.—Charlotte Observer.

The Clyde Steamship Company has just renewed its lease on the Wilmington property it has been using for dock and warehouse for the past several years. The Star says that the lease is at more than double the former rental and it is very evident that the Clyde line is anticipating good business for Wilmington and North Carolina. This opinion does the Clyde officials credit, because this State is just getting ready—to use a classical expression—"to go younder."—Charlotte Chronicle.

The Senate Democratic caucus has decided to impose a tax of one-tenth of a cent per pound on cotton sold for future delivery. This has no proper place in a tariff bill. It is not imposed for the purpose of earning revenue; it is imposed for the purpose of breaking up cotton exchanges. If the result is one that can be accomplished it should be brought about by legislation that openly proposes what it aims to accomplish. It should not be done by indirection. We think Congress attempts class legislation when it imposes a tax on cotton sold for future delivery, and does not impose one on stocks, grain or provisions sold in the same way. And the cotton grower will turn out to be the goat.—Jacksonville Times-Union.

The proposed tax on cotton future transactions is having a very disturbing effect on those who buy and sell or in any way deal in cotton future contracts. A big element in Congress, however, believes that speculation in cotton futures has an extremely disturbing effect on the cotton market, that in fact it tends to keep the price of cotton down. The effect of the proposed tax would be to practically put an end to the cotton future business. That probably is the purpose of those Congressmen who are insisting upon a high tax on cotton future transactions. It is a question if the effect of the proposed legislation wouldn't be to keep down the price of cotton, since the general tendency is to bull rather than bear the cotton market. One thing, however, is certain, and that is that a great deal of money that now goes to New York and New Orleans for speculation in cotton futures, most of which remains there, would remain at home.—Savannah News.

Some men do not consider it a threat when their wives threaten to go home to their mothers.

SIXTH ANNUAL CONVENTION

Architects of State in Session at Wrightsville Beach Yesterday—Next Meeting at Durham in December

The North Carolina Architects' Association held its sixth annual convention at the Seashore Hotel, Wrightsville Beach, yesterday morning with a representative though not very large attendance. All the business before the association was disposed of at one session and the convention adjourned at noon to meet in Durham in December for the mid-Winter session. Most of the architects came to spend the remainder of the week at the resort and they will not return until tomorrow or Monday.

Mr. Joseph F. Leitner, of this city, one of the most prominent architects in the State, had charge of the arrangements for the convention. Mr. W. G. Rogers, of Charlotte, the president, presided and in attendance also were the other officers, including Mr. Wm. H. Lord, Asheville, vice president; Mr. Franklin Gordon, of Charlotte, secretary. A large number of matters of peculiar interest to the architects but of no concern to the general public were brought up and considered.

Messrs. J. F. Leitner and Mr. Chas. C. Hook, of Charlotte, were named as a committee from the architects to confer with a like committee to the State Builders' Exchange with regard to proposed uniform specification. The committee from the Builders' Exchange is composed of President H. A. Pfohl, of Winston-Salem, and Mr. N. Underwood, of Durham. It is likely that the meeting will be held in Durham some time this Summer.

The association again went on record as most heartily in favor of a State architectual license law, requiring that all architects stand an examination before a board of examiners and obtain license before being allowed to do business in this State. A law of this kind has been sought by the architects for several years, but as yet their efforts have not been succesful. They hope to get it eventually, however.

Officers for the ensuing year were elected as follows: President, Wm. H. Lord, Asheville; vice president, Franklin Gordon; secretary, W. C. Northup, Winston-Salem.

Last night the architects were entertained at a Dutch luncheon at the Seashore Hotel. The affair was attended by all the architects down for the convention and was greatly enjoyed by all.

SCHOOL AT ALBEMARLE.

Rev. Dr. Geo. H. Atkinson Here in Interest of Institution.

Rev. Dr. Geo. H. Atkinson, president of the Albemarle Normal and Industrial Institute, Albemarle, N. C., has been in the city for a few days on business connected with the institution, and leaves this morning for a visit to some of the other towns in this part of the State.

Dr. Atkinson talked most interestingly of his institution, which he says is going to be in the front rank of the institutions which are serving and meeting the needs of the young ladies on the farm and manufacturing sections of the South. The institute opens September 3rd and Dr. Atkinson says it will have the largest enrollment in its history. Besides the literary, normal and classical courses, thorough courses are given in practical housekeeping, sewing, weaving, manual arts, art, business, agriculture, etc. Special stress, said Mr. Atkinson, will be laid on the practical housekeeping, sewing and agriculture. Every young lady is taught to cook, sew and run a house. The agricultural course will be very extensive. Lectures will be given by experts in dairying, horticulture, poultry, bee and cattle raising, also the conservation of the soil. Lectures will also be given on rural architecture for homes, churches and school buildings.

One very striking plan that Dr. Atkinson is working up is to get picked girls from different counties from the several townships and organize them into a team. There will be some wide-awake captain at the head of each county team. "Each team will get the very best out of all the vast advantages given during the year then return and use this knowledge in their county," he said.

Mr. W. H. Sprunt, of Wilmington, is paying the salary of one of the members of the faculty of the institution, Dr. Atkinson stated. The faculty is composed of ladies from the best colleges in the United States.

MR. W. H. MONTGOMERY DEAD.

Popular Young Man Passed Away Early Yesterday Morning.

Mr. William H. Montgomery died yesterday morning at 2:30 o'clock, at his residence, No. 209 South Sixth street. He had been in failing health for two years and the end was not unexpected. He leaves a wife and two children who have the tender sympathy of a host of friends in Wilmington and elsewhere. He is also survived by his father, Mr. F. A. Montgomery, of this city.

He was born in Brunswick county November 12th, 1876, and was, therefore, in the 37th year of his age.

Prior to his last illness, which extended over a period of two years, he was connected with the firm of J. G. Wright & Son, in the capacity of real estate salesman. He had a large circle of friends, and was a man of many excellent traits of character.

The funeral exercises were held from the residence yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock, conducted by Rev. Dr. A. D. McClure, pastor of the St. Andrew's Presbyterian church, assisted by Rev. G. T. Adams, pastor of the Fifth Street Methodist church, and Rev. J. S. Crowley, pastor of Immanuel Presbyterian church. The interment was at Oakdale cemetery. There were many friends of the bereaved family present, and a profusion of floral tributes.

The pallbearers were: Honorary—Dr. A. H. Harriss, Mr. Thomas H. Wright. Active—Messrs. R. H. Northrop, W. A. McGowan, L. O. Ellis, William Monroe, W. R. Stewart, E. P. Dudley.

Suction Fan at Bijou.

Always looking after the comfort of their patrons and ever desirous of making their theatre the most healthful place, the Bijou management has just added both to the immense cooling system and ventilation arrangement at the theatre. Two immense suction fans have been installed, which draw out the stale air and draw in the fresh, while many other big fans have been placed so as to keep the air cool. The cooling arrangement is now perfect.

CROWDS THRONG BEACHES

National Holiday Is Celebrated at Wrightsville and Carolina Beaches—General Suspension of Business

The Fourth was observed yesterday in Wilmington by a general suspension of business, thousands going down to Wrightsville and Carolina beaches for a day of rest and recreation. The day started out intensely hot which was relieved in the afternoon by a light shower which helped to make it more comfortable. In Wilmington it was very, very quiet, and everything looked more like Sunday than a National holiday.

Early in the morning there began a general exodus to the beaches. Hundreds went down to Carolina Beach on the morning and afternoon boats, while the cars throughout the day to Wrightsville Beach were crowded with people. Up until 8 o'clock last night the Tidewater Power Company had carried more than 6,000 people to Wrightsville, which is about the same number they carried last year.

At Carolina Beach there was special music, dancing and surf bathing. The many visitors entertained themselves in various ways most of them going down for the purpose of having a day of quiet away from the harassing scenes of business.

At Wrightsville the hotels were thronged with guests while at Lumina there were thousands of visitors. Many sought relief from the heat by taking a dip in the surf and those who enjoyed dancing were given an opportunity to trip the light fantastic toe.

It is very probable that had it not been for the slight rain in the city about 3 o'clock and the threatening weather for the remainder of the afternoon the crowds would have exceeded by several hundred the number handled by the Tidewater Power Company on the Fourth last year. Although there was only a little rain it was enough to cause many people to change their plans for going to the beach in the afternoon, fearing the lowering clouds would develop a heavy downpour later in the day. As usual the crowds were handled without accident of any kind.

There were scores of picnicking parties from Wilmington and elsewhere at Lumina. The first floor of the pavilion presented an interesting appearance as the picnickers spread their lunches upon the tables. All seemed to be enjoying themselves and having a most excellent time.

There were several hundred visitors in the city and at the beaches from surrounding towns. They came in on morning and noon trains and returned in the evening.

Athletic Events

The athletic events in front of Lumina and on the sound served to entertain the immense crowds all during the afternoon; and proved to be very interesting both from the standpoint of the spectators and the contestants. Many splendid prizes in the shape of silver cups, candy and round-trip beach tickets were given to the winners.

The events on the sound, made possible by the new overhead walkway, grandstand and floating dock, were a departure from the usual order, and were not only interesting but also the large number of canoes and sail boats made the scenery very picturesque indeed. The tilting feature was hotly contested and the water polo game proved to be an innovation which furnished lots of fun to the spectators.

Below is given a list of the events and the names of the winners:

In the 100-yard dash for those weighing over 135 pounds the winners were Mr. LeGrand, first prize; Mr. George Clarke, second; Mr. Humbler, third. For those weighing between 110 and 135 pounds the winners were B. Williams, first prize; W. Hashagan, second; N. R. Pittman, third. For those weighing under 110 pounds the winners were F. Boykin, first prize; J. D. James, second; I. Silverman, third. The first prizes were silver cups and the second and third prizes, round-trip beach tickets.

In the sack races for those weighing over 110 pounds George Clarke, won first prize; W. Taylor, second; J. P. Orr, third. For those weighing under 110 pounds the winners were H. C. Merritt, first prize; H. H. Merritt, second; L. Schnibben, third. The first prizes being a silver cup and second and third prizes, round-trip beach tickets.

In the girls' flag race for those under 12 years of age Miss Mary Warren won first prize; Miss Alma Johnson, second; Miss Ella May Rankin, third. In the race for those over 12 years of age Miss Wallace Brady won first prize; Miss Ellen Powell, second; Miss L. Parsley, third. The prizes were boxes of candy and tickets.

In the potato race for those weighing over 110 pounds Mr. Humble won first prize; L. A. Blue, second; L. Bishop, third. For those weighing under 110 pounds, L. Silverman won first prize; W. Tabtivich, second; F. Boykin, third. The first prize was a silver cup and the second and third prizes, round-trip beach tickets.

In the canoe surf races there were 12 entries. I Corbett and G. Clarke made first place; R. Taylor and J. D. Corbett, second; B. Lord and B. Davis, third; B. H. Bridgers and M. Calder, fourth; T. Strange and W. Monroe, fifth. The prizes were round-trip beach tickets.

Sound Events

In the 220-yard swimming contest for those weighing under 110 pounds the winners were W. Sanders, first prize; J. D. Corbett, second; A. Smith, third. For those weighing over 110 pounds the winners were R. Davis, first prize; R. Strange, second; B. Williams, third. The first prizes were silver cups, and second and third prizes, round-trip beach tickets.

The tilting contest was won by Corbett and Clarke with Murchison and Watters, and Watters and Corbett in finals.

The canoe polo game was divided into 10-minute halves. In the first half there was no score; in the second half the score was 5 to 5. Capt. I. Corbett's team won when the tie was played off. Each team was composed of four canoes with three men to each canoe.

The officials for the events were Messrs. Chas. Dushan, referee; J. B. Huntington, marshal; R. C. Duls, scorer; J. H. King, D. F. Holloway and A. B. Moore, judges; W. Fowler Morrison, starter; C. Cooper and Hazelhurst, linemen.

The success of the events was largely due to the official force who gave the afternoon to the events and were untiring in their efforts to render efficient service. The next event will be a canoe and swimming contest on July 16th.

Annual Regatta

The annual Fourth of July regatta sailed over the course of the Carolina Yacht Club yesterday morning was witnessed by a large crowd from the different points of vantage on the island. It was an open race, but owing to the early hour at which the regatta began there were only eight entries. "The Puzzle," sailed by Capt. E. A. Metts, was the winner; "Dixie," sailed by Capt. Donald Parsley, was second; No. 78, sailed by Capt. H. J. MacMillan, third; No. 64, Capt. Louis MacMillan, fourth; No. 71, Capt. Wm. M. Parsley, fifth; No. 66, Capt J. S. Brown, sixth. Capt. Louis MacMillan made the best showing on account of being the youngest captain and his first race. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. MacMillan, Jr.

The prize for the winner is the club flag and a silver dish, while silver prizes were presented those who finished second and third. The race began at 9 o'clock and was finished in two hours and a quarter, being slow on account of the lack of breeze.

FOURTH AT FAYETTEVILLE.

Independence Day Happily Celebrated, But One Mishap.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Fayetteville, N. C., July 4.—Fayetteville observed the Fourth with a celebration which more nearly approached the old style of such events than any that has been held here in years except that the element of speech-making was omitted altogether, owing to the heat.

A civic and military parade consisting of both companies of the Fayetteville Independent Light Infantry, the Woodmen of the World, the apparatus of the fire department, and 300 school children dressed in red, white and blue, riding automobiles decorated with flags, started things off in the morning. The Declaration of Independence was read at Liberty Point by Don F. Ray, and the children sang "America." Foot races, obstacle and bag races on Hay street followed, and wrestling and boxing bouts between volunteers, the contestants being both white and colored, were held in Market Square.

In the afternoon a baseball game between two of the best amateur teams in the State, was played at the fair grounds. A water display by the firemen ended the afternoon.

An extraordinary display of fireworks was given tonight. The celebration was under the management of Capt. J. D. McNeil. The only mishap of the day occurred when an automobile in the parade ran over John Underwood, Jr., the young son of Mayor John Underwood, as it came into Market Square. He was injured but slightly.

STATE LAWYERS ADJOURN.

Mr. Thomas W. Davis, of Wilmington, Re-Elected Secretary.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Asheville, N. C., July 4.—At the conclusion of the morning session today the North Carolina Bar Association adjourned, after having been in session at Battery Park Hotel since Wednesday. The final session was given over to the election of officers, routine business, and the reading of more memorials to deceased members.

Thomas S. Rollins, of Asheville, was elected president, and Secretary Thomas W. Davis, of Wilmington, was re-elected secretary. The following were chosen vice-presidents, the number having been reduced from 16:

Wescott Robinson, of High Point; R. C. Laurence, of Lumberton; U. M. Frye, of Bryson City. Col. Skinner was elected chairman of the executive committee, with A. B. Andrews, and the president and secretary as ex-officio members.

When Mark W. Brown nominated Mr. Rollins for president, more than a dozen sprang to their feet to second the nomination and the election was made with enthusiasm. Mr. Rollins succeeds Hon. J. S. Manning, of Durham, who has been president during the last year.

Judge Stephen G. Bragaw, who was on the programme for an address, wired his inability to be present.

Many new members were admitted to the association, including about 20 from Asheville.

The attorneys have evidently enjoyed themselves during their stay here. While a great deal of work has been accomplished, the social side has not been neglected.

SHERIFF STOPS FIGHT.

Declared Bout Ceased to be "Boxing Contest."

New Orleans, July 4.—Sheriff Marrero, of Jefferson Parish, stopped the scheduled 20-round fight between Jack Britton and Charlie White, lightweights of Chicago, in the 18th round, at the West Side Athletic Club, this afternoon, to save White from a knock out.

White was thoroughly beaten when Referee Burke, acting upon the instructions of Parish authorities, stopped the bout, and held up Britton's glove. Sheriff Marrero declared the bout had ceased to be a "boxing contest."

Barring the fourth and seventh rounds, White was on the defensive. Britton used his left to splendid advantage, and before the tenth it was evident that White had no chance. Britton continued to increase his lead the referee warning White several times to cease stalling.

OLD FOLKS' DAY.

Special Services Sunday at Fifth Street Methodist Church.

Tomorrow will be observed as Old Folks' Day at the Fifth Street Methodist church. At the morning service the pastor, Rev. G. T. Adams, will preach a special sermon on "The Old Paths." The old hymns that are so much loved by those who have passed the meridian of life will be sung. All the old people in reach of the church have been extended an invitation to be at the service Sunday morning, and a committee has been appointed to provide conveyances for those who are unable to walk. It is expected that this will be one of the best services that has been held at the church in many a day.

Special Meeting Likely.

It was stated yesterday that there would likely be a meeting of the City Council this morning to take up the question of the failure of the County Board of Health to comply with the instructions of the Council in fixing the salaries of the officials of the health department. The meeting had not been called late yesterday afternoon, but if it is held at all today it will be at 9:15 this morning.

Services Every Night

Preparatory to communion on the following Sunday services will be held at Immanuel Presbyterian church every night next week, conducted by different ministers of the city. These services will be found to be of great interest and the public is cordially invited to attend. Services at Immanuel church Sunday morning at 11 and evening at 8, conducted by the pastor, Rev. J. S. Crowley.

Death of Little Child.

Sarah E., the infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Bunn, who live at No. 711 Castle street, died Thursday night after a short illness. The funeral services were held yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock, at the residence, conducted by Rev. J. W. Harvey. The interment was in Bellevue cemetery. The bereaved parents have the sympathy of many friends.

JULY FOURTH AT WASHINGTON.

Peace Reigned Throughout the Day in the Nation's Capital.

Washington, July 4.—Quiet in the National capital this Fourth of July was broken only by the rattle of street traffic and the cheers of enthusiastic crowds watching baseball score boards at the newspaper offices.

There was no roar of the dynamite crackers of former years, and alert policemen ordered to enforce rigidly the law against fireworks reported tonight that not even the tiniest of popcrackers had been set off within the District. The headquarters casualty record was blank.

Independence Day ceremonies were conducted at Memorial Continental Hall with Senator Gallinger, of New Hampshire, as orator. There were two street pageants, and an interesting feature of the day was the unveiling of the tablets marking two historic spots—the site where Samuel F. B. Morse operated the first public telegraph station in the United States, and the site of the old Blodgett house where Washington's first theatrical performance was staged, and where Congress met in 1814 after the burning of the Capitol.

Business, public and private, was suspended for the holiday. The President and Vice President were attending the Gettysburg celebration, and Secretary Bryan was the only member of the cabinet in the city. There was no session of either House of Congress, the only signs of life at the Capitol being around the Senate Finance committee room, where the committeemen were putting finishing touches to the tariff bill.

OPPOSE CHILD LABOR.

The Cotton Manufacturers' Association Adjourns Its Sessions.

Greenville, S. C., July 4.—The South Carolina Cotton Manufacturers' Association, which adjourned its meeting at Lake Toxaway, N. C., yesterday, placed itself on record as favoring legislation which would compel the attendance of children at the public schools. The association also went on record as favoring humane child labor laws.

It is thought this was in answer to the charge made by A. J. Kelway, secretary of the Southern States of the National Child Labor committee, at the World's Christian Citizenship Conference at Portland, Ore., Tuesday, that the cotton manufacturers of the Carolinas, Georgia and Alabama prevented the legislatures of those States from repealing harmful child labor laws.

RACE TRACK TRAGEDY.

Two Fatally Injured in Automobile Speed Contest.

Memphis, Tenn., July 4.—Don Grant of Brinkley, Ark., was probably fatally injured, and John Harp, of the same town, was seriously hurt here this afternoon while participating in a 100-mile automobile contest at the Memphis Driving Club track.

The race was won by C. W. Dunnivan, of Memphis, in a Studebaker car in three hours and 15 minutes.

The accident occurred in the 51st lap of the mile track when Grant and Harp, driving a Marmon car, attempted to pass another car stopped for repairs. When their car turned turtle Grant was caught under the wreckage.

MOTORCYCLE RACE

Boyd and Bruggerman the Winners in Two Hhundred-mile Contest.

Denver, Col., July 4.—G. R. Boyd and Bert Bruggerman won in the professional class today in a 200-mile motorcycle race conducted with the sanction of the Federation of American Motorcyclists. The time was 3:25:54 3-5. The best previous record for the distance was 4:05:54 2-5. In the amateur class Odloran and Al Edenberg finished first in 3:22:00.

As Good as a Gold Mine.

Professor White estimates that no fewer than 400,000,000 gas mantles are used every year, and as these gas mantles cannot be manufactured without a substance named thorium, the necessity for obtaining a large supply is obvious. Some time ago the manufacturers were, indeed, at a loss to discover sufficient for their purpose. Their anxiety was removed quite unexpectedly when a stranger walked into the office of one of the great incandescent companies and offered to show where an unlimited supply could be obtained.

He demanded £100,000 for the information, and this sum the campany readily undertook to pay. The directors were, however, doubtful of his ability to carry out his promise, but after obtaining a contract he took a representative of the company to Brazil, where huge deposits of thorium were discovered. From this place most of the thorium now in use is obtained. The stranger had discovered the find quite accidentally.

Smoke-Cured.

To be strictly accurate, it was not a smoking compartment, but the youth was puffing away at a chubby briar, despite the pained expression on the old lady's face. By and by the old lady, who was the only other occupant of the carriage, began to get excited.

"Young man," she barked, as far as her coughing would permit her, "do you know that it's wrong to smoke?"

"Well," replied the lad, as he enveloped the old party in a wreath of pungent smoke, "I use tobacco for my health."

"Health!" ejaculated the victim, in spluttering tones. "Nonsense! You never heard of any one being cured by smoking."

"Yes, I have," declared the youth, still puffing away like a furnace chimney; "that's the way they cure pigs."

"Then smoke away," cried the heroine of the story; "there may be hope for you yet."

Wane of Motherhood.

Ellen Key, writing in one of the magazines, deplores the wane of motherhood, a constantly increasing disinclination to assume its responsibilities, she says, being everywhere apparent. The disinclination is not confined to any one class, she says, but the work-worn druge and the idle creature of luxury are both averse to it.

Children's Day Service.

At the Castle Heights Methodist church Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock there will be special exercises by the children of the Sunday School. The children have been at work for some time on the programme that will be given, and it is expected that it will be a most interesting service. The public is cordially invited to attend.

Raleigh Paper Discusses the Situation at Wrightsville Beach.

Editorially, the Raleigh News and Observer yesterday had the following additional comment on the Wrightsville Beach situation:

"Is commercial success in the keeping of hotels in North Carolina dependent upon the ability of such hotels to furnish beer and wine and whiskey to their guests To admit that this is a part of hotel keeping is to make of these nothing more than barrooms conducted for their guests, and it cannot be admitted except that it be agreed that the people who become guests do so only to get liquor.

"This matter is one which is made pertinent by the information from Wrightsville that the Summer resort hotels there had in view going out of business, a loss of $100 a day each being alleged, because beer and whiskies were not to be had by the guests. If hotels in North Carolina Summer resorts or otherwise, have to have as a side line a bar room on the premises, for their continuance is a menace to all within their touch.

"Summer resorts have in some years good seasons, in others bad seasons, but in North Carolina the verdict of the people is that business cannot be stimulated by the use of liquors. The people have voted for prohibition in North Carolina and there is no exempt clause for sumer resort hotels. If they are to succeed they must gain patronage on legitimate lines, and it is a thing hardly to be conceived that it is the desire to be served beer and whiskey which carries people for a Summer outing to the seashore or to the mountains.

"The selling of liquor has been outlawed in North Carolina, and it has been for the good of the people of all this State. Of course, it has driven out of the liquor selling business those who engaged in it, but in this land of opportunity there are other avenues of business open to men who will work. And the records of business in North Carolina shows that the State has been the gainer because it has driven liquor out. The men who are financing hotels at Wrightsville Beach have determined to continue these in business and that place is one so attractive as a seaside resort that it should attract people for itself and for its pleasures, not that they might find a bar room at hand as a magnet to pull them from their homes."

Under the caption, "A Bid for the Undertaker," the Charlotte Observer says:

"The managers of the beerless resort hotels at Wrightsville are said to be considering the suggestion made to them to advertise their hotels as the only Summer resort places where beer is absolutely impossible. This is the expectation that the prohibition people will show their appreciation of this idealistic condition by flocking there to the filling up of the hotels and to the joy of the hotel man. Before they place this advertisement in the papers the hotelkeepers should arrange with the railroads for a train to transport the help home, and with the furniture men for the packing and storage of the furniture—in short, should notify the undertaker. The pocketbook of the prohibitionist will stand no such test as that. It would be too high a tribute to exact of patriotism. Might as well advertise for the millennium to come and expect it do so by wireless."

The Greensboro Record has the following to say:

"We are led to believe that Wrightsville is a place where the boys used to go and get drunk. Now that they cannot 'repeat,' they have quit going. The hotels think of advertising that nothing stronger than soda water and coffee is sold there in the hope that they can recuperate the crowd with sober people. Good idea, but a sober crowd at Wrightsville would be a curiosity."

—Because he says he doesn't want his name in the newspapers a man arrested yesterday by the police department for being drunk and disorderly refused to give his name, and was placed in the city prison to await a hearing before the Recorder today.

WHITE HOUSE WEDDINGS

Engagement of Miss Wilson Calls Up Similar Events

The announcement by President and Mrs. Wilson of the engagement of their daughter, Miss Jessie Wilson, to Mr. Francis Bowes Sayres, was of interest to Wilmington society, as everything connected with the Wilson family is, because of the some time residence here of the President's father, as well as of himself. The announcement served to call up White House weddings of the past, and the Washington Post publishes the following list:

1811—Lucy Payne Washington, sister of Mrs. Madison, and Judge Todd, of Kentucky.

1812—Anna Todd, cousin of Mrs. Madison, and Representative John G. Jackson, of Virginia.

1820—Maria Monroe, daughter of President Monroe, and Lawrence Gouverneur, secretary to President Monroe.

1826—John Adams, son of President John Quincy Adams, and his cousin, Helen Jackson.

1329-37—Jackson administration — Delia Lewis, a friend of President Jackson, and Alphonse Joseph Yver Pageot, attache of French legation; Mary Easton, niece of President Jackson, and Lucien B. Polk; Emily Martin, a connection of the Jackson family, and Lewis Randolph.

1842—Elizabeth Tyler, daughter of President Tyler, and William Waller.

1874—Ellen Wrenshall Grant, daughter of President Grant, and Algernon C. F. Sartoris.

1878—Emily Platt, niece of President Hayes, and Gen. Russell Hastings.

1886—President Grover Cleveland and Frances Folsom.

1906—Alice Roosevelt, daughter of President Roosevelt, and Representative Nicholas Longworth.

1913—Jessie Wilson, daughter of President and Mrs. Wilson, to be married to Francis Bowers Sayre.

RIOT AT NEWPORT.

Negro Stabs Sailor; Then Kills 14-Year-Old Boy.

Newport, R. I., July 4.—Ten thousand people, men and women, witnessed a riot on Newport Beach tonight when a negro, fleeing from a sailor he had stabbed in the back, shot and killed a 14-year-old boy.

For nearly an hour police reserves battled desperately with the mob which was determined to get possession of the negro. Only by carrying him into the surf and holding him in the water up to his neck, beyond the reach of the crowd, did the police succeed in retaining him.

The trouble started when Ernest and Floyd Maloney, ordinary seamen from the Naval Training station, were jostled in the crowd on the beach. Maloney says he had turned to expostulate when Bradley Smith, 20 years of age, a negro, is said to have struck him. In the fight that followed Smith is alleged to have stabbed Rabu.

With the two sailors in pursuit Smith started down the beach. The police say he drew a revolver and began to shoot at his pursuers. William Egan, 14 years of age, dropped with a bullet in his right eye.

The boy was hurried to the Newport hospital but died on the way. Smith was knocked down and captured, but before the patrol wagon could reach the scene he was surrounded by a mob and cries of "lynch him" arose.

The officers got the negro into the surf and after holding the mob off for a while, rushed him to a small building. In an instant the mob had started to pull the building to pieces. Windows were beaten in, blinds ripped off and some of the crowd forced their way into the room where the prisoner was held. A midshipman from one of the battleships trying to hold back a crowd of sailors was knocked down and trampled.

The patrol wagon arrived and while some of the police held off the crowd, the prisoner was placed in the vehicle and taken to the police station.

Rabu's wound was pronounced not serious.

FIGHTING IN MACEDONIA.

Prisoners and the Wounded Arrive at Balkan Capitals.

London, July 4.—Evidence that serious fighting is occurring in Macedonia is found in the arrival of large numbers of wounded and prisoners at the various Balkan capitals, but owing to silence at Sofia and to the conflicting and probably biased stories from Servian and Greek sources, it is impossible to form any accurate idea of the struggle.

There has been no formal declaration of war and although it is reported the Bulgarian minister to Greece has been recalled, he had not departed from Athens.

Premier Venizelos announced in the Greek Parliament today that the Greek forces had won a victory at Kilkish and captured 60 guns. This appears to have been gained by the amazing swiftness of the Greek advance from Saloniki, which, according to correspondents, surprised the Bulgarians.

The Servians claim a victorious advance to Kotchana, but the Servian invasion of Bulgaria has been repulsed and Bulgaria it is reported, is executing a turning movement which will nullify the Servian movement.

Suspension of judgment regarding the operations therefore is advisable in the absence of accurate accounts.

The reported change in the ministry at Sofia has not yet been confirmed, but is regarded as proable. Rumania has officially proclaimed the mobilization of her full strength, but her intentions are still unknown. The French government has informally approached the other powers with the object of obtaining a declaration of non-intervention. The greatest anxiety prevails in financial circles at St. Petersburg, where the report was current today that the Emperor had threatened to break off diplomatic relations with the Balkan States unless hostilities ceased.

The St. Petersburg correspondent of the Associated Press in a dispatch tonight, says that report is without foundation, but adds that Russian opinion favors strong measures to end what is regarded as a disgraceful state of affairs. Russian newspapers suggest recourse to The Hague tribunal.

From Greek headquarters come reports of massacres and outrages committed by the Bulgarians in the Nigrita and other districts, which it is said are strewn with the bodes of victims.

WELTERWEIGHTS FIGHT.

Wildcat Ferns Awarded Decision Over Young Denny.

New Orleans, July 4.—Wildcat Ferns, of Kansas City, was awarded the decision over Young Denny, of this city, after a scheduled 10-round bout at Pellican Park this afternoon. They are welterweights.

Trawling is very popular now in Banks Channel, in front of the Oceanic Hotel. Large crowds are out every day. The launch Little Gem, Capt. Salter, is being used by many trawling parties.

—It was cool yesterday, the thermometer showing only 90 degrees.

Wrightsville Beach

Charlotte Observer yesterday: "Miss Miriam Parker has gone to Wrightsville where she will attend a house party given on the beach by Miss Florie Northrop, of Wilmington."

Yesterday's Raleigh News and Observer: "Mr. and Mrs. Theo M. Webb, after a visit to his father's and mother's home in Warrenton, passed through the city yesterday on their way to Wrightsville Beach to spend some time there."

The Sons of Jove, the well known electrical fraternity of this State, are scheduled to hold their annual rejuvenation at the Seashore Hotel today. A number of the electricians arrived yesterday and others are expected to come today. According to the programme, there will be an elaborate banquet served at the Seashore Hotel tonight. Mr. N. L. Walker, chairman of the general committee on arrangements, arrived at the Seashore Hotel yesterday.

Judging from the number of arrivals at Wrightsville Beach yesterday, the announcement that it is a boozeless resort has not been detrimental. However, the test, in the opinion of the hotel managers, will not come for a week or ten days yet. If the hotels continue well filled with guests for the next ten days or two weeks it is reasonably certain that the resort will do a fine business to the end of the season. The Seashore Hotel was "chock a block" yesterday and the Oceanic was also well filled. A great many others are expected at both hotels today to spend the week-end.

Among the arrivals at The Oceanic yesterday were: Miss Ruth Simms, Mrs. G. C. Knapp, Mrs. R. H. Brown, Atlanta; Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Springfield, Mrs. W. T. Yarnell, Chattanooga, Tenn.; Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Riley, Birmingham; Mrs. C. E. Stamps, Atlanta; Eugene Benton, Monticello, Ga.; C. P. Scott, Maxton; Mrs. F. M. House, Atlanta; C. W. Thompson, Fayetteville; J. B. Johnson, R. J. Brown, Atlanta; S. SUFFRAGETTE CREATES STIR.

Drops Scroll of Paper in King's Carriage—Mob Threatens.

Bristol, Eng., July 4.—While the royal procession was on its way to the agricultural show, at which the King was to officiate today, a suffragette darted from the sidewalk and, getting past the mounted equerry, reached the King's carriage and dropped a scroll of paper on His Majesty's knees.

The equerry wheeling around, drew his sword and struck the woman a light blow. The police then arrested her. The crowd made a rush for the suffragette, women in the crowd showing the greatest eagerness to maul her. One of them struck her with an umbrella and another seized her by the hair. The police rushed their prisoner away in an automobile to escape the mob.

After a short detention at the police station the woman was released. She gave the name of Mary Richardson and her address as the headquarters of the Woman Social and Political Union.

MEXICAN FLAG INSULTED.

Torn Down and Trampled at Tucson, Arizona.

Tucson, Ariz., July 4.—The flag flying above the Mexican consulate was torn down and trampled during the Fourth of July celebration here today. Reports of the incident vary, some saying the act was committed by Americans, others that the flag was desecrated by Mexican sympathizers with the Constitutionalist movement in Sonora. Consul Ainslie, Mexican representative here, was advised by the Tucson officials to place a United States flag over the Mexican flag, if he again attempted to hoist the tri-color. Ainslie insisted that he intended the hoisting of the Mexican colors over the consulate as a compliment to Americans in their National holiday. He persisted in regarding the incident as international rather than purely local.

COMPLICATION OF WOMAN'S ILLS

Yields to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Athens, Texas.—"I had a complication of diseases, some of them of long standing. I wrote to you for advice and took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and some other things that you suggested. I must confess that I am much better in every way and have been relieved of some of the worst troubles. My neighbors say I look younger now than I did fifteen years ago."—Mrs. SARAH R. WHATLEY, Athens, Texas, R. F. D. No. 3. Box 92.

We know of no other medicine which has been so successful in relieving the suffering of women, or received so many genuine testimonials, as has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

In nearly every community you will find women who have been restored to health by this famous medicine. Almost every woman you meet knows of the great good it has been doing among suffering women for the past 30 years.

In the Pinkham Laboratory at Lynn, Mass., are files containing hundreds of thousands of letters from women seeking health, in which many openly state over their own signatures that they have regained their health by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, many of them state that it has saved them from surgical operations.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence

NATIONAL BALLOON RACES.

Four Giant Racers in the Air Last Night.

Kansas City, Mo., July 4.—Four of the eight giant racing balloons scheduled to start in the National race to choose America's representative for the James Gordon Bennett trophy contest in France this Fall, are in the air tonight. They are "The Kansas City II," Kansas City; "Million Population Club," St. Louis; the "Goodyear", Akron, O., and the "Kansas City Post."

Against the Kansas City Post, and the Kansas City II, Robert E. Nolker, president of the St. Louis Aero Club, and R. E. Greene, of the Aero Club of Illinois, telegraphed protests to the contest committee of the Aero Club of America, saying that these balloons were "taking gas after legitimate time."

Mr. Nolker and Mr. Greene declare they have witnesses to substantiate their charges. A rule was adopted by the Aero Club officials last night providing that after the first balloon left the ground gas should be shut off from the other balloons. Pilot Honeywell, of the Kansas City Post, appraised of the intended protest before he arose, denied the charge, as did Pilot Watts, of the Kansas City II.

It was a disastrous day for ballooning. Two of the great bags were destroyed by a stiff wind that swept the field, a third withdrew at the last moment on account of a defective valve and the "Overland" with Roy Donaldson and F. E. Lanning, of Springfield, Ill., aboard, was forced to land a few miles from the starting point. A 30-mile wind delayed the start by two hours.

The balloon, Miss Sophia II, which was to have flown the colors of the Missouri Athletic Club, had a valve torn out by the wind. William Assman, who was to have piloted the bag was in tears when he discovered the extent of the injury. Assman had a similar experience last year. When he found he could not start he took his pocket knife and cut his $1,800 balloon to pieces.

"The Drifter" piloted by Albert Holz, of Cincinnati, was eliminated when Mr. Holz found a defective valve a few minutes before the start.

The bag of the balloon Lucerne in which Dr. L. E. Custer, of Dayton, O., was to have ascended, collapsed while being filled with gas, and Custer was unable to make the trip. The Lucerne was not entered in the race.

Donaldson in the Overland had gone aloft but 300 feet when he discovered the appendix valve of his balloon was damaged. He pulled the rip cord and descended in a corn field. Neither the occupants of the balloon, nor the bag itself was injured.

West, 145 poles, to a pine; thence North 357 poles, to a spruce pine, at the run of Old House Branch; thence with the meanders of said branch, to the beginning; containing, by estimation, 300 acres, same being on the North side of the railroad, about two miles from the Scott's Hill Depot.

SECOND TRACT: Beginning at the Southeast corner of the church lot of the M. E. Church, South, at Scott's Hill, in the center of the side track of the Wilmington & Newbern Railroad, and running thence with the course of the side track in a Northeast direction, 173 feet to a stake, 7 feet at right angles from the center of said side track to the West side of the same, and running thence North 59 deg. West, 823 feet, to a stake in a fence line; thence South 33 deg. 15 min. West, 435 feet, to a sycamore tree in the edge of an old grave yard; thence South 58 deg. 45 min. East, 371 feet, to a stake in the Western corner of the Methodist Church lot; thence North 35 deg. 30 min. East, 242 feet to a stake in the Northern corner of the Methodist Church lot; thence South 53 deg. 15 min. East, 447 feet, to the point of beginning; containing 4.9 acres; and being the tract of land upon which the mill and plant of the Scott's Hill Land & Lumber Company is located.

THIRD TRACT: All the standing timber measuring 12 inches in diameter, 18 inches from the ground, upon the following described tract of land, lying and being in Topsail Township, Pender County, and bounded as follows: On the North by lands of G. W. Huggins; on the East by lands of Jasper Sidbury; on the South and West by lands of W. H. Hill; containing 400 acres, more or less. It is the condition of this deed that the timber shall be removed from the aforementioned land within eight years from the 9th day of March, 1911. The party of the first part hereby conveys to the party of the second part all the rights and privileges of ingress, egress and regress named in the deed from J. T. Foy and wife.

FOURTH TRACT: 1st. Being a certain lot or parcel of land allotted to E. M. Joy in the division of the estate of J. M. Foy, deceased, and described as follows, to-wit: Situated on the East side of Island Creek and South side of Wanny's Branch, beginning at a sweet gum tree on the spot where formerly stood a stooping chinquapin; running thence North 85 East 77 poles, to a stake; thence South 36 poles, to a stake, Henry S. Foy's Northwest corner; thence East with said H. S. Foy's line, 256 poles, to a stake; thence North 58 East, 110 poles, to a gum tree on the run of Wanny's Branch; thence with the run of said branch, along the various courses thereof, about 286 poles, to a maple, the corner of the Sholar tract; thence with the Sholar line, South 44 West, 332 poles, to the beginning; containing by estimation, 337½ acres, more or less.

2nd. Situated on the East side of Island Creek, and on the North side of Wanny's Branch, beginning at a stake, Henry S. Foy's Northwest corner, referred to in the above tract; running thence South 204 poles to a maple on the North side of Mosquito Branch; thence North 14 deg. East, 84 poles, to a stake; thence East, 134 poles, to a pine; thence with the courses of the bay, first North 63 poles; thence North 87 deg. 50 poles; thence North 50 deg. East 120 poles, to a pine in the line of the Futch tract; thence with said Futch line, North 23 deg. West, 88 poles, to the corner of the Futch tract; and thence West, 252 poles to the beginning; containing 322 acres, more or less.

3rd. Adjoining the above two tracts and lying on both sides of Wanny's Branch beginning at a stake at the edge of a bay, adjoining R. K. Bryan's land, being the beginning corner of the Futch tract, near Richard Earle's plantation; running thence North 33 deg. West, 204 poles to a pine stump in Jeremiah Casteen's field; thence South 58 deg. West, 180 poles, across Wanny's Branch to a stake, corner of the two above described tracts; thence South 33 deg. East, along a line of the second tract described above, 100 poles, to a stake in the edge of a bay; thence South 18 deg. West, 60 poles, to a pine; thence South 58 deg. East, 60 poles, to a stake; thence North 58 deg. East, 263 poles, to R. K. Bryan's line, to the beginning; containing 229½ acres, more or less.

Excepting from the last mentioned tract, a certain parcel of land conveyed by J. W. Foy to Oscar P. Batton, by deed dated January ——, 1887, and recorded in New Hanover County, in Book Q, page 372, provided the said Batton has legal title thereto, but the said party of this deed conveys all interest he has in said exception, which purports to contain 22 acres.

4th. The following land in New Hanover County, North Carolina, adjoining the lands of the Nixon heirs and others, bounded and described as follows, to-wit: In Harnett Township, situated on Mosquito Island, beginning at a pine near the head of Island Creek, and running down said creek to a stone, N. M. Nixon's corner; thence with his line East 154 poles to a stake, his corner at Mosquito Branch; thence up said branch as it meanders to a pine at Briery Glade; thence the various courses of said glade to Cross Branch; thence down the run of said branch, its various courses, to the first station; containing 350 acres, more or less.

The last four tracts lying in New Hanover and Pender Counties, and conveyed by George M. Wiley to W. H. Hill, as Recorded in Book 53, page 430, Records of New Hanover County, and in Book 54, page 579, Records of Pender County, and sold by W. H. Hill to said Scott's Hill Land & Lumber Company.

FIFTH TRACT: 1st. Situated in Topsail Township, adjoining the lands of the Brown heirs, beginning at a spruce pine on the North side of Trumpeter Swamp, near the mouth of Maul's Branch, and running thence North 20 deg. West, 176 poles, to a stake; thence North 38 deg. East, 18 poles to a pine, near a bay; thence along the bay North 5 deg. East 40 poles, to a pine on the bay; thence with said bay North 65 deg. East, 32 poles, to a pine; thence South 57 deg. East, 20 poles, to a stump; thence East 40 poles to a pine; thence North 21 deg. West, with the bay, 40 poles, to a pine on said bay; thence with said bay North 57 deg. West, 56 poles to a pine; thence North 32 deg. East, 32 poles to a pine; thence South 51 deg. East, 144 poles, to the run of Trumpeter Swamp; thence down Trumpeter Swamp to the beginning; containing 110 acres, more or less.

2nd. Beginning at a stake on the run of Trumpeter Swamp, near the mouth of Coe's Branch, and running thence South 23 deg. West, to a stake near Mush Pot Pond, Ezekiel Chadwick's corner; thence with his line South 23 deg. west, 68 poles to a stake in the first line of a 100-acre tract or survey granted to M. J. Hall; thence with said line South 54 deg. East, 14 poles to a stake at the run of Blossom Branch, the beginning corner of Hall patent; thence down Blossom Branch to a stake, J. Garrison's corner, at the South edge of Blossom Branch; thence with Garrison's line South 27 deg. East, 110 poles to a pine near the Wolf Pond, James W. Walton's corner, the beginning corner of Garrison's old survey; thence with the line of said survey South 78 deg. East, 71 poles to a pine near Blossom Branch; thence South 12 deg. East, 48 poles to a stake; thence South 80 deg. East 21 poles to a spruce pine head fork of the bay of Blossom's Branch; thence North 20 deg. East, 10 poles to a stake; thence with the edge of Blossom Bay North 51 deg. East, 71 poles to a stake at the edge of Blossom Bay, the fourth corner of patent granted to W. C. Murphey, for 240 acres; thence with the line of said grant as follows: South 54 deg. East, 100 poles to a pine; thence South 10 deg. West, 68 poles to a pine at the edge of Carney Bay, at Merrick's Avenue, leading from the Savannah to Rocky Point; thence up the edge of Carney Bay South 72 deg. East, 50 poles to a stake by said bay; thence North 80 deg. East, 128 poles to a pine at the bay of Coe's Branch; thence North 80 poles to the run of Coe's Branch; thence down the run of Coe's Branch, to the run of Trumpeter Swamp, to the beginning; containing, by estimation, 750 acres, more or less.

3rd. Beginning at an oak at John Avant's corner; thence North 55 deg. East, 180 poles to a pine; thence North 2 deg. East, 218 poles, to a pine on Nichols' line; thence North 55 deg. West, 80 poles, to a pine; thence South 246 poles to Walker's corner; thence South 89 deg. West, 216 poles to a pine on Wanny's Branch; thence with said branch to the beginning; saving and excepting, more of less, 25 acres around and containing the house in which Jeremiah Casteen formerly lived.

Also another tract or parcel of land adjoining the lands of Charles B. Futch and the lands belonging to the estate of Lewis Loftin, deceased, and the lands of the estate of Benjamin Best, the boundaries of which will more fully appear in a patent by Reuben Everett for said land, the whole tract containing 309 acres, more or less.

4th. The following land in Pender County, State of North Carolina, adjoining the lands of Watkins and others, bounded and described as follows, to-wit: In Topsail Township, beginning on the East end of Jordan's Ridge, running North 48 deg. West, 216 poles; thence North 43 deg. East, 15 poles; thence North 61 deg. East, 44 poles; North 17 deg. East, 50 poles; thence North 17 deg. East, 50 poles; thence North 7 deg. West, 108 poles; thence North 75 deg. West, 27 poles, to Betsey's Branch; thence up Betsey's Branch North 75 deg. East, 72 poles; thence North 2 deg. East, 100 poles to Catskin Branch; thence up Catskin Branch Eastwardly 248 poles to the bay; thence with the bay to the beginning; containing 534 acres of land.

SIXTH TRACT: All of the pine timber of every description of and above the size of 12 inches in diameter at the base, when cut, now standing or growing, or which may be during the term of ten years, beginning June 3, 1902, lying, standing or growing upon the tracts of land hereinafter described, situate in Pender County, North Carolina, in Topsail Township, to-wit:

Beginning at a stake on the line of the right of way of the Wilmington & Newbern Railroad, on the West side, by two cherry trees; thence North 49 deg. 40 min. West 162 poles to a stake; thence North 64 deg. 10 min. West, 302 poles to a stake at the West edge of the public road; thence a part of the way along and with said road; North 31 deg. 40 min. West, 184 poles to Willie's Branch, to a stake in Bryan and Casteen's line; thence with said line, South 58 deg. 20 min. West, 62 poles to a stake in Thompkin's field; thence crossing Willie's Branch, South 31 deg. 40 min. East, 140 poles to a stake about —— poles West from the old cart road; thence crossing said road, North 58 deg. 20 min. East, 62 poles, to a stake in a bay about 8 poles West of the new road; thence about parallel with said road, South 31 deg. 40 min. East, 236 poles to a stake about 8 poles from said road; thence crossing the cart road South 19 deg. 20 min. West, 167 poles to a small red bay; thence South 46 deg. 40 min. East, 88 poles to a stake on Foy's line; thence North 43 deg. 20 min. East, 130 poles to a stake at the new road, W. M. Foy's and Bryan's corner, near the corner of Foy's lot; thence with the Foy and Bryan links South 68 deg. 40 min. East, 75 poles and 8 links to a stake in the line of the right of way of the Wilmington & Newbern Railroad, 50 feet from the center of said road, near the Methodist Church; thence along the line of said right of way North 47½ deg. 20 min. East, 87 poles, to the first station; containing 292 acres, more or less, saving and excepting one acre heretofore deeded to the Methodist Church.

SEVENTH TRACT: Beginning at a stake on the West side of the Wilmington & Newbern Railroad, 50 feet from the center line of said road, being also a corner of the W. W. Huggins' line; thence along the line of the right of way of said road, North 47 deg. 20 min. East, 95¼ poles to a stake, where Bryan and McClammy cross said road; thence with said line North 51 deg. 40 min. West, 10 poles to a stake in Black Swamp, a Bryan and McClammy corner; thence with their line North 38 deg. 20 min. East, 47 poles to a stake, an old Bryan and McClammy corner; thence with their old line South 50 deg. 40 min. West, 151½ poles, crossing McClammy's field to a stake, a dividing corner between R. K. and N. N. Bryan; thence with their dividing line South 38 deg. 20 min. West, 79 poles to a stake in the Northwest edge of Black Swamp, a dividing line between R. K. and N. N. Bryan and Mrs. S. B. Foy; thence with

CLEWS' FINANCIAL REVIEW

Second Half of 1913 After Year of Almost Continual Shrinkage—Excellent Evidence of Interest Soundness of Affairs

New York, July 4.—We enter the second half of 1913 after nearly a year of almost continuous shrinkage in Stock Exchange values. The highest average point reached for twenty leading railways in 1912 was 124 on August 14th, and 92 for the twelve leading industrials.

On June 30th of the current year, the average of twenty leading railways was 103 and of twelve leading industrials 74. This is a drop within eleven months of 21 points in the average of railroad shares and 18 points in industrial shares; an almost sensational decline; and the bulk of it has taken place since the election. That it has been accomplished with no serious disaster is excellent evidence of the inherent soundness of affairs in general. The question is, will the second half of 1913 show a continuation of this tendency; or is not at least a moderate recovery about due?

Ever since the election the market has been treated to a succession of nightmares. The Balkan war was one; fear of a worldwide stringency in money another; tariff revision another; an unsatisfactory railroad situation another, and the series of important dissolutions in compliance with the Sherman anti-trust law still another. And yet the much dreaded Minnesota rate decision was finally handed down and proved to be reassuring rather than disturbing. The American Tobacco dissolution is out of the way. So, too, is the breaking up of the Harriman merger. Solution of the latter affords signal relief to the market, inasmuch as it removes a vast mass of securities, the final placing of which was a momentous problem. The importance of this as a stock market factor has not yet been fully realized. Finally the monetary situation is righting itself. The July settlements abroad were passed without any of the much feared disturbances. July payments in this country, often a source of temporary stringency, were passed without a ripple, and this in spite of unsatisfactory monetary conditions. In spite of July dividend and interest payments, aggregating $266,000,000, call loans ranged from 1 to 2 1-4 per cent. Our tariff is now in the last stages of preparation, though it may be some weeks before actually passed and months before going into effect. The worst in this respect is already known, and any changes in schedules are likely to be a relief rather than an additional impediment to manufacturers and merchants. Once the bill is passed, the disposition will certainly be to make the best of it, though for the last six months the inclination was naturally the reverse. In any event the proposed new schedules have already been largely discounted. Comparatively few concerns will be injured by the new rates, and it is frequently overlooked that in many respects the lower schedules will be a positive impetus to trade activity. The currency bill is having rough sailing. It contains not a few new features which are unsatisfactory to bankers, and which leave the present bill more of a makeshift than a real cure for the present banking and currency ills. Unfortunately popular prejudice and ignorance stand in the way of a really satisfactory currency measure. Probably the bill will pass in due time. But as a matter of safety it would be well for Congress to extend the Aldrich-Vreeland bill until such time as a satisfactory currency bill can be enacted.

As a result of the conservative banking policy pursued for the past two or three months our banks are steadily strengthening their cash resources and are now in a much better position for meeting the anticipated Autumnal demands. As usual the contingencies most dreaded have been warded off by anticipation. Call money is very abundant, owing to the ample supply of cash, and easy rates in this respect are anticipated until the crops begin to move. The only unsatisfactory feature in the monetary situation is the insistent demand for new capital, which too frequently is obtained by excessive issues of short-term notes. It is to be noted, however, that these demands are being postponed or altogether refused. During June the new security issues amounted to $180,000,000, compared with $299,000,000 a year ago, a decline of $118,000,000. The amount of railroad bonds issued in June was about $7,000,000, compared with $26,000,000 a year ago, while of railroad notes the issue was $104,000,000, as against $74,000,000 in 1912. Industrials issued only $7,000,000 of bonds, against $39,000,000 a year ago, but $31,000,000 of notes, as contrasted with $9,00,000 the previous year. Out of the total issue of securities for the month $135,000,000 represented short-term notes. It is impossible to determine what proportion of these were for refunding purposes.

Outside of the financial district conditions are really more encouraging. The crop outlook is still very satisfactory, beneficial rains having fallen freely where most needed during the past week. The Winter wheat crop is already harvested, showing a yield of 100,000,000 bushels greater than a year ago. The government report on grain will shortly be out and will be watched with close interest. While general trade shows the usual Summer quiet, merchants are anticipating a much more active business as soon as the tariff is settled. In many cases shelves are bare and active buying will be necessary for replenishment. This means a restarting of many idle mills. From many sections of the country trade reports are decidedly encouraging, and a good harvest will insure good business for another six months. Steel orders are being stimulated by slight concessions. There is only one spot that requires serious caution; that is the money situation. Bankers are still very conservative and are inclined to enforce contraction and moderate re-adjustment. Liquidation has been prolonged and severe in securities; it has made considerable progress in commodities, many of which have undergone sharp declines. It is now making itself felt in the restraint imposed upon any except the most necessary plans for expansion or improvement. In short, the process of self-righting has been going on for nearly a full year; many difficulties have been safely passed and those that remain have been well discounted. As soon as the crop and monetary situations get beyond the range of uncertainty we may look for a better stock market. Just now pesimism is in danger of being overdone.

ALTERED IN THEIR MEANING

Phrases, Passing Through Generations, Become Distorted Before Generally Acknowledged.

Word building is as much a piece of carpentry as is house building. Only it takes longer. Sometimes a century more. And by that time the word's first meaning is usually changed.

For example, the old word for "neighbor" was "nib." One's good neighbor was known as one's "good nib." This became shortened to 'godsib,' and later to "gossip." Then the word's whole meaning changed and gossip no longer meant good neighbor, but applied to the sort of talk exchanged between good neighbors.

Take the word "farmer," too. The old word for "farmer" was "boor." (And "boor" later was used for describing farmer-like or rough persons.) The farmer living nearest to one was known as the "nighboor," and this phrase, in course of time, was twisted to "neighbor."

You've heard the proverb, "Little pitchers have big ears." Well, it doesn't refer to the utensil that holds water or goes to the corner side door. "Pitcher" was a slang term with some such meaning as our word 'chap' or "fellow." Thus, "Little fellows have "big ears" is a more sensible rendering of the proverb.—Chicago Journal.

PRETTY LANGUAGE OF LOVE

In Switzerland Flowers Are Made Use of by Those Who Seek Their Companions In Life.

In remote Alpine hamlets and villages especially in the Bernese Oberland there still exist ancient and pretty customs of proposing marriage by the language of flowers. If a maid accepts a bouquet of edeweiss from a accepts a bouquet of edelweiss from a him as her fiance, the idea being that the man has risked his life to obtain the flowers for the woman he loves.

Another method which exists in the Canton of Glarus is for the young man to place a flowerpot containing a single rose and a note on the window sill of the girl's room when she is absent from home and wait—perhaps days—for a reply. If the maid takes the rose, the young man boldly enters the house to arrange matters with her parents, but if the rose is allowed to fade away the proposal is rejected without a single word having been exchanged between the couple. Sometimes a fickle girl will keep a young man waiting a day or two for an answer, but whatever it may be it is considered final.

Secret of Happiness.

Most of us begin well. When we are quite young, we are full of faith. We believe in others, and we also believe in our own powers of overcoming faults and failings.

We set out full of the zest of life—no hill is too high to climb, no point too lofty to reach.

But later most of us get discouraged. We find that our friends are not so noble as we thought them, that it is much harder to root out our faults and failings than we imagined, and perhaps in time to take up the foolish, soul-destroying idea that so long as we are "no worse than other people" it is all right.

Let us try to keep the high ideals that we learned at our mother's knee, to still keep our faith in human nature, no matter how often we may be disappointed. Let us still strive for perfection and resolve to do our best again and again, no matter how often we may fail. For only by doing this can we keep our hearts young, however old we may live to be, and only so can we be our best and do our best.

$3.50 Recipe Free, for Weak Men.

Send Name and Address Today—You Can Have It Free and be Strong and Vigorous.

I have in my possession a prescription for nervous debility, lack of vigor, weakened manhood, failing memory and lame back, brought on by excesses, unnatural drains, or the follies of youth, that has cured so many worn and nervous men right in their own homes—without any additional help or medicine—that I think every man who wishes to regain his manly power and virility, quickly and quietly, should have a copy. So I have determined to send a copy of the prescription free of charge, in a plain, ordinary sealed envelope to any man who will write me for it.

This prescription comes from a physician who has made a special study of men, and I am convinced it is the surest-acting combination for the cure of deficient manhood and vigor failure ever put together.

I think I owe it to my fellow man to send them a copy in confidence so that any man anywhere who is weak and discouraged with repeated failures may stop drugging himself with harmful patent medicines, secure what I believe is the quickest-acting restorative, upbuilding, SPOT-TOUCHING remedy ever devised, and so cure himself at home quietly and quickly. Just drop me a line like this: Dr. A. E. Robinson, 4163 Luck Building, Detroit, Mich., and I will send you a copy of this splendid receipe in a plain, ordinary envelope, free of charge. A great many doctors would charge $3.00 to $5.00 for merely writing out a prescription like this—but I send it entirely free.

DAVID'S

The first "4th of July" celebration

IN those days they celebrated the country's independence of foreign rule; they had to fight for it, but they got it. In these days there's a different sort of independence to be gained; and you ought to help win it.

Independence from fraud in merchandise is one of the things we 're trying for; the elimination of the cheap stuff that masquerades as quality. It appears in clothing in the form of cotton mixed fabrics, in "sloppy" tailoring, in flashy, undignified styles.

Hart Schaffner & Marx

clothes are a declaration of independence; they're all-wool, the best tailoring, the best style; they give the wearer independence of thought; and they save him from paying too much for good clothes.

That's the way we sell them; at $18, $20, $25, and more; the best values you ever saw at $25.

TOO MUCH GOVERNED SAYS MARSE HENRY

Then the Old Dominion made a gift of it to the New Dominion.

"'Turn we seaward. John Paul Jones set an example of sea fighting to Oliver Hazard Perry, and, taking up the wondrous tale where Jones left off, Oliver Hazard Perry wrote with his sword the end of the chapter. Dying, he left no copy. The twain stand upon a single pedestal—matchless in naval annals. The battle off Scarborough Head in the northern ocean, was prelude to the battle of Lake Erie, off Put-in-Bay. The 'Bon Homme Richard' and the 'Niagara', sister ships, sail into Valhalla harbors side by side. 'I have not yet began to fight,' makes immortal couplet with 'We have met the enemy and he is ours.'

"And thus we come and here we are this blessed Fourth of July, 1913. With such a past and so great a patrimony, is it not discreditable that the heirs of the noble men who fought with Jones and Perry, with Harrison and Shelby, could ever have fallen apart and come to blows? I think so truly, and it seems to me the more discreditable when we reflect that brothers then, are brothers still; the most homogeneous people upon the face of the globe; the sections merged in their cradles, the States but geographic expressions.

"At length we are reunited. Let us thank God for that. But from our misadventures and mistakes shall we take no lesson to ourselves?"

Col. Watterson at this point discussed the evils of too much legislation and other questions.

BANDITS ROB TRAIN.

Hold Cars on Trestle Over River—Passengers Panic Stricken.

Memphis, Tenn., July 4.—An all day search of the Tallahatchie river bottoms in the vicinity of Batesville and Pope, Miss., failed to reveal any clues to the two bandits who early today daringly held up and robbed Illinois Central Southbound passenger train No. 1, on the trestles over the river bottoms just south of Batesville.

Railroad and express company officials agree that the amount of booty secured by the robbers was comparatively small, ranging between $500 and $3,500. This train usually carries large amounts of money for small banks along the line, but because today was a holiday the customary shipments were not made. The mail car which also was rifled, carried but few registered packages, according to Assistant Postmaster Sol Seche, of Memphis, but the value of these has not been estimated.

Although the passenger coaches were not disturbed great excitement prevailed among the people on the train when it was learned they had been held up by bandits. According to a report by Conductor Harrison, a few of the passengers made a stand at the forward end of the negro coach and exchanged shots with the robbers when they escorted the crews of the express and mail cars to the rear.

The hold-up occurred shortly after 2 o'clock in the morning, but it was not until after 6 o'clock that the sections of the train were assembled and able to proceed southward. The bandits halted the train on the long trestle just south of Batesville, and after forcing the crews of the express, baggage and mail cars to go to the rear, ordered the train cut, the engine and the cars containing valuables going about four miles further south. After looting the cars, the robbers ran the engine 20 miles south to Pope, Miss., where they abandoned and escaped into the woods.

Posses with blood hounds will continue the search for robbers who are believed to be in hiding in the dense growth of the bottoms.

Jackson, Miss., July 4.—"I was awakened by three revolver shots fired in rapid succession followed by the jerking of the train under the emergency brakes", said P. B. Jones, of this city, who was a passenger aboard the Illinois Central train which was held up and robbed at the Tallahatchie river near Batesville, early today. Mr. Jones was in a sleeping car and occupied "lower 13."

"I afterwards learned," said Mr. Jones, "that the jerking of the train was caused by the robbers placing the train on the bridge so that those aboard could not leave except at either end. The negro fireman was forced to uncouple the baggage, express and mail cars and load a package of dynamite on the express car.

"There was considerable excitement among the passengers. Conductor Harrison went through begging for fire arms and urging everybody to stay in their berths and hide their valuables. All lights were extinglished and doors locked. A few passengers made a stand at the end of the Jim Crow car and shots were exchanged with the robbers.

"After the first shots were fired the flagman fled in the darkness to Tallahatchie where he found a long distance telephone. The wires had been disabled by the robbers, but the flagman cut a piece off the ground wire, restored connection and informed Sardis of the robbery."

TRIAL OF RATH DUFF

Tuesday Set as Day for Hearing the Charges of Bribery

Webster Springs, W. Va., July 4.—Judge W. S. O'Brien, sitting in the trial of the West Virginia legislators, charged with bribery in connection with the election of a United States Senator, has set Tuesday next, as the date for the beginning of the trial of Rath Duff, the second of the accused to go on trial.

This was done to give the Sheriff time to serve summons on citizens drawn in a panel of 40 to serve as jurors. Of the panel of 40 but 23 had been drawn when the 12 men to try Senator Ben Smith had been secured. There have been many rumors that prospective jurors had been "seen" in behalf of some of the defendants, and this is believed to have prompted Judge O'Brien to order an entire new panel.

It is said the conviction of Smith caused friends of the defendants to circulate rumors of threats of violence against the State witnesses, the attorneys, and others, who had declined to agree with them.

The trial of Duff is looked upon here as likely to be one of the most sensational of all the seven indicted legislators.

MONUMENT UNVEILED

Thousands Attend Celebration at Guilford Battleground

Greensboro, N. C., July 4.—Several thousand today witnessed the unveiling of a monument to Joseph M. Morehead, under the auspices of the State D. A. R. at the Guilford Battleground, where the battle of Guilford Court House was fought during the Revolution.

Governor Craig, of North Carolina, was the chief speaker of the day.

REGULARS PAY TRIBUTE TO SLEEPING WARRIORS

in interest, if we have but the vison to guide and direct them and order their lives aright in what we do. Our constitutions are their articles of enlistment. The orders of the day are the laws upon our statute books. What we strive for is their freedom, their right to lift themselves from day to day and behold the things they have hoped for, and so make way for still better days for those whom they love who are to come after them. The recruits are the little children crowding in. The quartermaster's stores are in the mines and forests and fields, in the shops and factories. Every day something must be done to push the campaign forward; and it must be done by plan and with an eye to some great destiny.

"How shall we hold such thoughts in our hearts and not be moved? I would not have you live even today wholly in the past, but would wish to stand with you in the light that streams upon us now out of that great day gone by. Here is the nation God has builded by our hands. What shall we do with it? Who stands ready to act again and always in the spirit of this day of reunion and hope and patriotic fervor? The day of our country's life has but broadened into morning. Do not put uniforms by. Put the harness of the present on. Lift your eyes to the great tracts of life yet to be conquered in the interest of righteous peace, of that prosperity which lies in a people's hearts and outlasts all wars and errors of men. Come, let us be comrades and soldiers yet to serve our fellow men in quiet counsel, where the blare of trumpets is neither heard nor heeded and where the things are done which make blessed the nations of the world in peace and righteousness and love."

Accused Released

Gettysburg, Pa., July 4.—W. B. Henry, accused of stabbing eight persons in a local hotel on Wednesday night, was released today in $2,500 bail, furnished by his father, Major R. R. Henry, of Tazewell, Va.

The bail was fixed after Governor Mann, members of his staff, the Lieutenant Governor and the Attorney General, of Virginia had appeared before the judge to intercede for him.

The Virginians hold the Henry family in high esteem and say the defendant has always borne an excellent reputation. He is a lawyer in Camden, N. J.

President Makes Quick Trip

Philadelphia, July 4.—President Wilson's special train passed through North Philadelphia at 5:11 P. M. It is due in New York about 6 o'clock.

New York, July 4.—President Wilson spent three hours in New York tonight resting at the University Club after a thrilling all-day journey by special train from Washington by way of Gettysburg where he stopped for an hour to make a brief speech to the Civil War veterans.

The President was raced across Pennsylvania and New Jersey at a speed some times approaching 70 miles an hour. There was no apparent need for haste, as the President's schedule did not call for his arrival in New York until 8:13 tonight, but between Gettysburg and Philadelphia the special train struck up top speed, and before the President realized it he was only a few miles from the Quaker City. He sent in word to have the engineer slow down and his wishes were heeded. Later, however, orders were given to make New York by 6 o'clock. The railroad officials cleared the way between Philadelphia and New York and sent the special over a freight track with another burst of speed.

The only stops made were for water. At some of the stations the President leaned down from the observation platform and shook hands with a great number of the crowds who greeted his train. Most of the distance, however, the special sped by scores of stations where expectant crowds waited in vain to catch a glimpse of the President.

Just what the reason for the flying trip was could not be learned, as immediately on his arrival in New York the President merely took a long automobile ride on Riverside Drive to get a breath of air, as the day's ride was through sweltering heat and dust.

Few people knew him as he motored along the driveway.

The President dined at the University Club, and remained there until time to catch the 11:10 train for Cornish, N. H., where he will join his family tomorrow.

SCRANTON FLYER WRECKS

Five Killed and Many Injured When Tarin Strikes Picnic Party

Philadelphia, July 4.—Five persons were killed and three injured, one probably fatally tonight when the Scranton Flyer on the Philadelphia & Reading Railroad struck a wagon containing a picnic party at a railroad crossing near Quakertown, Pa.

The dead: are:
Mrs. Jennie Costello, 54 years old.
Edwin Kane, three years.
Katherine Costello, 10 years.
James Gillick, 50 years.
James Hanigan, 54 years.
The injured are:
Francis Costello, 11 years, fractured skull and internally injured.
Edward Costello, 4 years, hurt about the body and possibly internally.
Frederick Costello, 11 years, bruised and possible fracture of the skull.

The Costello home is in Philadelphia and the two men lived near Quakertown. The party was returning in a wagon from a Fourth of July celebration.

When the news of the accident reached Quakertown two automobiles were rushed to the scene. The dead and injured were found buried beneath the ruins of the wagon.

ACCIDENTALLY SHOT WIFE.

W. P. Prince, of Wake County, Seriously Wounds Mrs. Pierce.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., July 4.—Mrs. W. P. Prince, of the McCullers section of Wake county, was brought here to Rex Hospital last night, dangerously wounded, having been accidentally shot by her husband. There were reports that the shooting was not accidental but Mrs. McCullers, wife of Dr. McCullers, county physician, near whose home the Prince family lives, called Dr. McCullers, who was in the city, to tell him he was wanted to treat Mrs. Prince, and told him that Mr. Prince was working with the revolver, the two examining it, when the weapon discharged and the ball took effect in her breast. At the hospital this morning, it is stated that the patient is doing very well, though she is not out of danger.

Birmingham, Eng., July 4.—Damage amounting to $20,000 was done today by a fire in a large factory at Sutton Coldfield, which was believed to have been the work of a suffragette "arson squad."

the rolling, tumbling waters as they rushed down the mountain side, and quaked with terror and fear.

"Today, the science of man has chained the lightning and harnessed the electricity and is driving the machinery of the world with its power and energy; it has caught the rolling and tumbling waters and has put them to turning the wheels of our factories and mills and its roar is mixed with the music of the busy spindle and loom. The men of science are doing a great work in conquering the elements, but you are doing just as great.

"Don't get discouraged. Don't look at the other fellow who seems to have an easier job than you and who seems to be doing less work, and envy him. You may depend upon it that he is having his troubles. We were foolish enough once to look at a fellow as he went driving by in a big, fine automobile and envy him. Just three months after that the fellow blew his brains out, declaring that life wasn't worth living. There are skeletons behind doors in gilded houses.

"Make it a rule to make friends of your patrons. Up our way these rural route boys have got the preachers and newspapers skinned a mile. It used to be that we editors got all the big pumpkins, potatoes and cabbage that were not needed by the country folks, and the preachers got pounded once or twice each year, but this has all changed now, and the rural carriers get enough stuff each week to run a boarding house, while we fellows get nothing. We are jealous of them. Old ugly Jim Hayes here comes in from his route loaded down with sweet 'taters and vegetables and you would think he was running a truck wagon, or a moving van.

"Another thing, attend the annual conventions, and meet together and talk over your problems. Tell each other of your troubles and successes. There is nothing like meeting togethed and touching elbows, shaking hands and having a good time together. While we are in this city we will all be mail carriers. I want to be one of you. I want to learn of your work so that I may help you in my feeble way. I am like the doctor who was a specialist on fits. One day he was sent for by a fellow who had the colic. When he got there and found out what was the matter, and found the fellow didn't have fits, he told him that he couldn't do any thing for him, that he was a fit doctor, that he didn't know anything about colic. The fellow told him that he was suffering, and had to have some relief. 'All right,' said the fit specialist, 'I'll give you a dose of medicine to throw you into fits and then cure your fits.' 'I ain't much on colic,' said the doctor, 'but I'm hell on fits.' I am not much of a rural mail man, but I love to meet with the boys and have a good time.

"In olden days the man upon whose brow the laurel crown of honor was placed was he who went out to destroy life and property, but today, the man whom we would honor is the man who works for his fellow man. When the Children of Israel wanted to sing the praises of their great men they declared that Saul had slain his thousands, but that David had slain his tens of thousands. Today the man upon whose brow we place the crown of honor is the man who goes out to save life and property and not he who destroys same. The rural mail carrier who goes out in the burning heat and stinging cold, carrying light and knowledge, courage and hope is a greater hero than the man who destroys his tens of thousands lives, and upon your brow today I place this crown. A brow that has felt the burning sun and the cold bitter wind, and in placing this crown upon your head I place it upon the brows of men who have worked faithfully, patiently and successfully."

Mr. Crowson was extended a rising vote of thanks for his splendid address, and a telegram of appreciation was also voted to be sent to Senator Overman.

Resolutions Adopted

The committee on resolutions read its report and made the following recommendations: "First, That with the present high cost of living we consider our present salaries inadequate; second, inasmuch as the city mounted carriers are allowed maintenance for their horses we think that the rural carriers should be allowed the same; third, we respectfully ask that a rule be made requiring all letters and packages to be stamped before mailing; fourth, on account of the larger packages that have to be carried under the new parcel post law we ask that the boxes for mail be made larger; fifth, we ask that these boxes be of a uniform size; sixth, we ask that substitute carriers be given the preference in examinations; seventh, where pouches have to be carried that are not a part of the R. F. D. mail we think the carrier should have additional compensation; eighth, we ask that the carriers be given an annual 30-day vacation with pay; ninth, we extend hearty thanks to the carriers of Wilmington and also the citizens of the city for their kind hospitality and courteous treatment." The report was adopted.

The committee on by-laws and constitution recommended that there be no changes made, and it was so ordered. It was voted that the assistant secretary be allowed compensation for his services. The R. F. D. News, of Washington, D. C., was adopted as the State organ of the carriers.

Mr. L. D. Hamlin, of Durham, was elected as delegate from the North Carolina Association to attend the meeting of the National Association which convenes at Evansville, Ind., in September.

In many ways the convention was the livest body of men that has met here this Summer. The spirit of aggressiveness was evident on every hand, and there is no question but that the carriers are intensely interested in their work. Most of the delegates left on the afternoon trains for their homes while a few stayed over until this morning. The annual vacation season for the carriers began July 1st, and several will remain in the city for some days yet.

he fell to the mat from its force. It was Rivers' round, and Ritchie seemed worried.

Round 4.—Rivers, covering up, penetrated his opponent's guard, hooking thrice with lefts to the body. A right cross to the jaw almost floored the champion. A closing fusiallade of rights and lefts by the Southerner gave him the round.

Round 5.—After receiving several straight lefts to the face, Rivers landed two left facers and a fierce mid-ring rally followed. Ritchie kept up a hot pace till the round ended, and took this ehat with the crowd cheering. Ritchie's round.

Round 6.—Rivers rushed fiercely to cloes quarters, but Ritchie clearly out boxed him. Time and again Ritchie sent his right and left crashing to the body aod face, forcing Rivers to clinch. Ritchie's round.

Round 7.—Ritchie out-boxed Rivers, delivering lightning-like blows to the Mexican's mouth and face, and opening an eye. Suddenly the Mexicar threw himself at the champion and all but sent him between the ropes. Rivers kept up his rushing tactics until the bell ended an even round.

Round 8.—Rivers took the aggressive, but after some sparring the champion sent in a trio of facers, bringing blood from the Mexican's mouth. Rivers retaliated and they fought to a clinch. Rivers missing several terrific swings. Ritchie's round.

Round 9.—Rivers opened with a clean left hook to the jaw. The champion, however, volleyed fiercely with right and left short arm blows to the jaw. Rivers then worked in two rights to the jaw, and evened up the round.

Round 10.—Rivers rushed, and only Ritchie's clever defensive work saved him from several hard face jolts. Ritchie then almost lifted the Mexican off his feet with a terrific left uppercut to the jaw. Ritchie's round.

Round 11. — The champion scored twice with rights to the jaw and Rivers took the count of nine. Gasping, he rose to his feet, but almost immediately a left upper-cut to the jaw, followed by a right cross to the same place, sent Rivers' championship ambitions a glimmering. The referee declared Ritchie the winner.

It's a Quiet, Simple Beginning

when the first stage of decay starts its work of ruination to cause the loss of a tooth.

A tiny filling is the remedy that will prevent as well as hinder decay and make the tooth sound. This is the kind of an operation that is simple—doesn't cause annoyance and costs a mere trifle—if you consider its real worth.

One reason there is an assurance of satisfaction from my operations—patients become urgent to interest their neighbors.

Your call today will protect that tooth.

Your Vacation Assured

You must plan ahead if you are to take a vacation this Summer. Else when the time comes, you won't have the funds.

We invite you to start a Vacation Fund with this bank. You are at liberty to draw out your money whenever you need it.

It is high time you began to save for the vacation which is coming later in life—old age. A bank account added to from time to time will insure a happy vacation in later life when your work is over and you are ready to rest.

The sooner you begin, the quicker you'll be able to retire and the further away from helplessness. Small accounts will receive careful attention.

A New Interest Quarter Begins June 2nd.
